Turkish Courts Double Road Toll

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—A Turkish police official said yesterday there are not many highway fatalities in Turkey—and for a good reason.

Capt. Rifat Salih Erean, who came here during a nationwide inspection tour of U.S. police methods, said a Turkish motorist at fault in a traffic death can be executed.

'British' Bidder On Engines Really B.C. Firm

VANCOUVER branch of Ruston and Hornsby Ltd., not the British parent company, submitted the low tender for supply of engines for two B.C. government ferries, a company spokesman said here yesterday.

Charles Santwyk, branch manager, said the tender of $1,066,000 contained "as much B.C. equipment as could be produced in this area consistent with economy."

The locally - manufactured equipment includes engine control consoles and bridge controls, he said.

STRONG PROTEST

Mr. Santwyk strongly protested the likely award of the engine contract to Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Ltd. after federal officials advised B.C. that "no assurance can be given" of a 40 per cent subsidy unless the contract was given to a Canadian firm.

"The Ruston and Hornsby Ltd. tender is being termed a United Kingdom bid," said Mr. Santwyk, "yet it was actually calculated and prepared by the Vancouver branch of the company. We are property owners, taxpayers and employers in this province . . ."

22 NOW ABOARD

Mr. Santwyk said 22 Ruston and Hornsby engines are already owned by the province in the ships of the B.C. ferry fleet. These include the two latest, still incomplete ferries.

"If the (federal government) subsidy is given for the Mv. City of Victoria and Mv. City of Vancouver now under construction, then why not for the new vessels containing the same Ruston and Hornsby machinery?" he said.

ADVISORY BODY

In fact, said Mr. Santwyk, the federal commission which has recommended subsidies for numerous Canadian vessels in the past nine months is only an advisory body. So far, the treasury board hasn't approved one subsidy to a Canadian shipowner, he said.

He said the $425,000 in British-built equipment included in the Fairbanks - Morse tender represents gearboxes and fluid drive couplers, which are specified items and therefore part of all the bids.

DELIVERED TO VICTORIA

"It has also not been made clear," said Mr. Santwyk, "that our price is delivered to Victoria, whereas Canadian Fairbanks Morse Ltd. is quoting a higher price for the engines at their plant in Kingston, Ont."

Mr. Santwyk said freight rates on nearly 200 tons of machinery could add up to $60,000 to the Canadian price of $1,126,500.

Torrent Desert Now A Sea

ALICE SPRINGS (Reuters)—Huge areas of central Australia resembled a vast inland sea Friday as torrential rains fell over cattle country hit by a disastrous drought which has gripped the area for six years.

Reports tell of falls of up to six inches in the last 24 hours.

Rains during the last two days at Junction—Station, 300 miles north of here, have converted a creek from a dry strip of sand into a river 150 yards wide in a few hours.

Canada Nods Holds Back On Free Trade

OTTAWA (Special) — Canada nodded approvingly but held back on commitments yesterday in answer to President Kennedy's call for broad cuts in free world trade barriers.

Canada's hesitation appears to stem from two uncertainties—degree of success Kennedy might achieve with his trade plan in a protectionist-leaning Congress, and the cloud over the future of Canada's British market in an expanded Common Market.

The government is expected to be cautious about changing existing tariff protection for secondary manufacturing industries unable to compete with the high efficiency and low prices of industries in the European market and the United States.

These attitudes surfaced during a general discussion here yesterday among U.S. and Canadian cabinet officers on problems arising from the new trade blocs.

APPRAISAL SOUGHT

The strong American delegation laid before their Canadian counterparts details of the Kennedy administration's proposal for tariff cuts which will be placed before Congress.

A realistic appraisal sought by Canadians of just how much of the tariff slashing program proposed by Kennedy might be passed by the election - conscious Congress was reported to be under way when the committee adjourned. The Canadian government entertained the visiting Americans at dinner Friday night.

CAUTIOUS APPROVAL

The meetings were to resume this morning and were scheduled to conclude about noon.

The U.S. administration hopes for authority from Congress to negotiate with the European Common Market for lower tariffs.

Meantime, Ottawa sources have expressed "cautious ap

Columbia Fulton Udall Confer

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton and U.S. Interior Secretary Udall got together Friday to discuss Columbia River power development—an issue which produced some sparks between them two months ago.

The two met at a private luncheon for U.S. and Canadian cabinet ministers attending trade talks and again last night at a dinner given by the Canadian government.

U.S. informants indicated they see increased hopes of a solution to the problem.

Last November Mr. Fulton accused Mr. Udall of joining a "pressure play" to get Ottawa to change its policy. Since then, relations have eased.

London, Paris Bear Brunt Of Wild Gale

LONDON (AP)—Atlantic gales hammered Western Europe Friday, sending ships running for shelter and bringing floods to rain-soaked Britain. The winds, which already have caused nine deaths, were expected to continue into Saturday.

London and Paris echoed to the sounds of banging garbage cans and falling roof tiles.

* * *

In the French capital, the meteorological service said the wind reached a speed of 97.5 miles an hour at the top of the 985-foot Eiffel Tower. The old tower stood up to this test but it was no place for timid tourists.

In the eastern Atlantic, ships of all sizes bucked their way against the weather. The crews of even large liners had their hands full.

The 27,000-ton Cape Town Castle was six hours late in arriving at Southampton from South Africa. Her master, Capt. Alec Underdown, said he hit a storm in the Bay of Biscay and called it one of the worst he had ever experienced.

Part of the liner's rail was carried away when 2,000 packages of tomatoes and cucumbers went over the side.

Police Jobs Lost for $15

NEW YORK (AP)—Three policemen were dismissed from the force Friday night on charges of refusing to investigate a burglary until the victim paid them $5 apiece.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arms identified the three as Louis Pastorini, a veteran of seven years; James Combs, 11 years, and Jerome Hecker, three years.

Week-Long Series

Fresh Quake Panics Slavs

BELGRADE (AP)—A new earthquake shook the resort town of Makarska on the Adriatic coast Friday night.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the tremor, of medium strength, heightened the panic and anxiety of thousands living in the open since a destructive series of quakes began last Sunday.

Three deaths and scores of injuries have been reported. Up to 70,000 people are said to have been driven from their homes since the quakes started. Five refugee camps have been set up on the beaches from where people are being removed by Yugoslav navy ships to the port of Split.

Eighty per cent of the buildings in Makarska were reported destroyed and a number of other villages are said to have been hit nearly as hard.

City May Banish B.C. Ferry Sign

City officials are investigating installation of a new sign on the roof of the Black Ball Ferry building on Wharf Street for the provincial government ferry system.

"It appears the sign was put up without a permit being issued and without approval by the city," said one official.

The issue is complicated because the building straddles the dividing line between two sign zones.

MIGHT ORDER

In one area the signs permitted are laid down, but in the other, zone "S," only signs permitted are those actually approved by a meeting of city council.

If the sign is in zone "S" it is possible city council might not approve it and order its removal.

HAVE TO GO

If the sign is in the other zone and does not conform to regulations, it will have to be removed.

If it does conform to regulations, it is likely the sign company which installed it will be required to pay a "fine"—double the usual fee for a permit to erect a sign.

Freeze-Up Punches Below Citrus Belt

CHICAGO (UPI)—All-time low temperatures froze millions of dollars' worth of citrus fruit in the frigid lower Rio Grande valley Friday and a wintry blast plastered freezing rain and snow on the south's Atlantic seaboard from north Florida to Virginia.

The week-long cold wave took a soaring toll in lives and crops as it clung to the South and threatened Florida's citrus and vegetable crops for the first time.

Gumbo froze on a table at Morse, La., water iced in Galveston Bay, Tex., 100 feet from shore, and for the first time in history a bridge was closed in Jacksonville, Fla., because of ice.

FROSTBITE DEATH

Suffering spread through usually balmy areas of the South. Texas counted six children among its cold wave dead. They included a two-year-old Houston boy who died of frostbite and five youngsters who succumbed to bronchial pneumonia contracted in inadequately heated homes.

The lower Rio Grande valley was one of the hardest hit sections. The mercury dropped to an all-time low of 10 above zero on the sub-tropical citrus growing area.

EVEN TREES LOST

An estimated 7,500,000 boxes of oranges and grapefruit froze on the trees. Many growers feared that even their trees were lost.

In one full week of wintry ordeal, the nation counted at least 202 deaths blamed on the weather. Texas alone had 32.

Playmate's Slayer Sent Home

MIDLAND, Ont. (UPI)—An 11-year-old boy who killed a playmate Christmas Day because he refused to smoke a cigaret is back home today with his parents.

Family court Judge Marjorie Hamilton ruled that the shooting was unintentional and said she felt a training school term would not serve either the boy's interests or the community's welfare. She placed the boy on probation.

"The image of the result of this tragic occurrence will remain with this child all through his life and will itself prove a deterrent in his future behavior," the judge added.

Young Killer Gets Three Years

LONDON, Ont. (UPI)—A 13-year-old boy was sentenced to three years in a training school yesterday for killing a seven-year-old girl.

Judge W. H. Fox said, "I find that he killed the girl but that there was no intent." He told the boy's parents to forgive their son. "He needs help," he added.

Devil's Island Fugitive Divers' Angel

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Dr. Pierre Bougrat, war hero, convicted murderer, escapee from Devil's Island and for 35 years the devoted but unlicensed doctor of the pearl divers of Margarita Island, is dead at 72.

Several hundred neighbors gathered yesterday to bury the man whose path to their island 15 miles off the Venezuelan coast started with a body in a Marseille office wall and led through the infamous Devil's Island penal colony.

It began in March of 1925 when a Marseille bank messenger disappeared with a bag full of money. Three months later police found the messenger's body in a wall of Bougrat's office.

Dr. Bougrat, twice decorated during the First World War, testified at his trial that the messenger had committed suicide in his office and that in a fit of panic he had sealed the body in the wall. But he was found guilty of murder. His wife divorced him.

In 1928 Bougrat was sent to Devil's Island, the notorious graveyard of prisoners in French Guiana, to serve a life sentence. He was permitted to live in a house apart from other prisoners so he could treat the sick. He quickly set about building a boat and within months escaped with four other convicts.

They travelled up the South American coast to the Orinoco River, then upstream to Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela. There they split up and Bougrat made his way to Margarita Island.

There he began a new life. He married a shopkeeper's daughter and treated the islanders. He once came to Caracas to seek a licence to practice medicine, and was refused because of his criminal record. But authorities allowed him to return to Margarita and practice without a licence.

French authorities several times asked for Bougrat's extradition. Venezuela denied their requests because this country does not permit life sentences.

But Bougrat could never return to France. He sent an appeal to the French government for a pardon, and was turned down.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Bears go to sleep and birds leave town for the winter. They are lucky.

I think Nature meant me to do one of these two things, or both. I'm ill-tempered and drowsy. I have the feeling that I have been up three weeks past my bedtime.

The news makes me yawn. I seem to have heard it before, and yet I don't understand it.

The words "Columbia River," or "Victoria centennial" are powerful sleep inducers. At the very sight or sound of them I have to get up and take a deep breath and chin myself on the door, to ward off the urge to hibernate.

I wish I could crawl into a cave and close my eyes — not only until spring, but through centennial year.

I find myself indifferent to all kinds of vital topics. I don't care about Lord Snowdon's salary for being artistic adviser to the Sunday Times in England. I don't care whether Roy Thomson gets to heaven.

Relentless Goodwill

Only a strong sense of duty forces me to read or listen to any tidings of proposed rockets, civil defence, Nehru or Sukarno.

Most of my letters have windows in them. People never seem to stop asking with relentless goodwill what kind of Christmas I had.

My car is littered, dented, sullen, and forever thirsty for gas. The rising tide of papers on my desk threatens to swamp the typewriter.

Furious Attack

I notice other people also falling victim to January blues.

Here's one man puffing furiously on a cigaret, frowning, giving his whole energy to the task of filling his lungs with poisonous smog.

Now he turns attention to the typewriter and launches a savage four-finger attack on it, clearly doing his best to snap the keys or drive the machine through his desk.

Whomp! Whomp! Whomp! he goes and every couple of minutes he looks up defiantly, as though to say: "All right— I'm going to kill this thing and you'd better not try to stop me."

Here is a group of men at coffee time, telling smutty jokes and sniggering hard and loud, just to keep up their spirits.

This is a low-down, monotonous, grey time of the year. Our vaunted coast climate, like a spoiled child prodigy, is on its best behavior and yet, unaccountably, it manages to bore and anger almost everyone.

Centennial Job Sought By Several

Several Victoria residents have shown interest in taking on the job of co-ordinator of the city's centennial program.

"A decision on who will take over from Archie Wills might be made at Monday's meeting of the centennial committee," committee chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said last night.

Mr. Wills took on the position for a three-month period which ended this week. He has since asked to be relieved of his duties.

The vacancy has been listed with the city personnel department.

Federal Campaign

Socreds Get Rolling

TORONTO (CP) — Social Credit kicked off its campaign Friday for the next federal general election.

Social Credit leaders from across Canada have been in session here for the last two days at the executive meeting of the Social Credit Association of Canada.

MAP STRATEGY

The campaign for federal seats will be based upon two themes: "United throughout Canada and employment for all."

Leaders said during a press conference the purpose of the meeting was to map election strategy and smooth out the organizational end.

"We are ready for an election at any time and plan to stress the areas which in the past have favored Social Credit," a spokesman said.

265 CANDIDATES

The party in power in Alberta and B.C. will field a full slate of 265 candidates in the next federal election. This marks the first time Social Credit has made such a move.

Among ranking party members was Premier Bennett of B.C.

The tone of the conference made it obvious the party will draw heavily upon Quebec support — with 137,000 signed members — in the battle to win the federal government.

"Let's try the Social Credit party — the old line parties have failed," deputy leader Real Caouette said.

Using Company Car Given Tax Break

OTTAWA (CP) — A businessman who uses a company car for his personal use as well as for business purposes is entitled to a partial income tax deduction, the tax appeal board has ruled.

In a judgment Friday, the board allowed in part the appeal of J. Mastai Ravary of Montreal, who objected to being taxed in 1954, 1955 and 1956 for use of a car owned by J. M. Ravary Inc., of which he is president and principal shareholder.

The judgment said Mr. Ravary used the car for business half the time and for pleasure half the time. The board ruled he was entitled to 50 per cent of the usual deduction.

proval with reservations" toward the Kennedy plan.

The cautious reaction brought a swipe by Liberal leader L. B. Pearson. He said Canada should be pressing forward, not "holding back," as the U.S. program recognized the need for maximum economic co-operation among the countries of the democratic world.

Pearson said Kennedy's proposal for expanding trade would have the active support and encouragement of a Liberal government in Canada.

U.S. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, as the talks opened, said both Canada and the U.S. were "on the side of liberal free trade" because both are such large world traders. He added that "access to world markets is of vital importance to us."

Trade Minister George Hees, one of the four Canadian ministers attending the talks, spoke to reporters before the closed-door sessions began. Replying to a question, he said President Kennedy's State of the Union message was "a very fine speech indeed. I was impressed."

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, listening to the exchange, interjected, "We're for freer trade."

He Bet His Life

Fungus Infection and Pressure Cause Thickening of Toenails

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes the toenails to grow thick? I apply baby oil frequently. I also file them. — C. A. D.

Thickening of the nails is fairly common on the toes, not the fingers, because infections, especially of the fungus variety, and continued pressure, are two chief causes of thickening.

Neither is as likely on the fingers as on the toes. Likewise there may be thickening of the toenails in people with faulty circulation, usually older people.

NO CHANGE

Baby oil doesn't help. The nail, once grown, does not change.

The things you can do yourself are few but well worth the effort. Be sure that shoes and socks are not too tight — try a half-size larger.

Next to that, careful pedicure is important, cleaning the under sides and keeping the nails suitably short. Long nails will usually be under more pressure.

Remember toenails should be cut straight across, or nearly so, and not with a curve as in the case of fingernails to prevent ingrown nails.

As for infections, once a fungus gets started, the warm, moist darkness inside the shoe encourages it.

Changing shoes and socks at least daily, for dryness, and regular use of foot powder, are advisable. Getting rid of the fungus requires medical aid.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Why do some people notice their own heart? — E. K.

Usually because they are tense, both mentally and physically.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a widow in my late 50s. Am in good health except that for the last six months I have been menstruating regularly after an absence of five years. Should this cause alarm? — Mrs. R. M.

It should send you to your doctor to find the cause. It isn't natural.

* * *

Mrs. A. D.: I can't help what your sister says. I don't know of any reason why cream in your coffee will be "hard on your liver."

* * *

To R. P. J.: The "rice diet" is essentially a form of low-salt or low-sodium diet. It is quite useful although not as urgently needed now the newer diuretic drugs are so well developed.

'Orange Trees' Herald Violence

ALGIERS (UPI)—Five thousand Europeans staged an anti-Moslem riot in the seaport of Mostaganem yesterday, killing a policeman in a wild street battle that could be the prelude to a showdown between the terrorist OAS army group and the Moslem FLN rebels.

* * *

Civil War Possible

PARIS (UPI)—Government sources said yesterday France is planning drastic measures to combat growing chaos and bloodshed in Algeria. Officials were concerned over the possibility of civil war.

Defence Minister Pierre Messmer, now in Algeria, was reported studying reinforced security measures on the spot. His measures were expected to include strengthening of the army and riot police in Algiers, Oran and other principal cities.

Fears of a showdown were aroused when the outlawed Secret Army Organization broadcast a cryptic message. "The orange trees will soon flourish anew." Such broadcast messages in the past have heralded new outbreaks. This one followed new threats against the OAS by the Moslems.

A coded message at New Year's, "The cigarets are burning" touched off a wave of violence that has cost 182 lives since Jan. 1. Death of the policeman at Mostaganem brought to 15 killed and 23 wounded the toll in Algeria.

Rioters at Mostaganem were returning from the funeral of two Jews killed there Thursday. Before police quelled the mob in heavy fighting the Europeans burned three Moslem cars and sacked several Moslem stores.

Peru Disaster

Aid Outweighs Surviving Few

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A mighty avalanche that blotted out 16 villages and settlements in the space of enght minutes Wednesday left so few survivors that available aid is more than adequate.

The head of a relief expedition said Friday "nurses and doctors are on the scene but can find no one to take care of."

Gen. Luis Urrelo, chairman of the avalanche disaster committee, said the number of dead "will probably never be known but I think it is over 2,000."

WITHIN ABILITIES

He said relief was well within the abilities of Peruvian agencies in view of the scarcity of survivors.

Fearing new icefalls, the government declared an emergency zone in the snowcapped region of the Andes where the disaster struck. One hundred Peruvian army engineers reached the devastation area to attempt to restore communications.

SURVIVORS PANIC

Reports from the stricken death valley 200 miles north west of Lima told of panic among the few survivors who escaped the path of a huge tongue of ice.

Only 30 bodies have been recovered.

MANCHESTER, England—Impatient Freddy Mallard, due to be released from jail yesterday, skipped Thursday because he couldn't wait.

"What a silly man Freddy is," said a prison official. "He'll probably lose his good conduct remission and have to go back inside again."

Mallard, 39, just completing an eight-year-stretch for false pretenses, walked out of a civilian hospital where he had been taken for treatment of a minor ailment.

Prison officials were so certain he wouldn't bolt that they left his civilian clothes by his bed.

Said his mother: "Freddy always was a scatterbrain."

Truck Crash Orphans Nine Children

BATTLE LAKE, Minn. (UPI) — Nine children were orphaned yesterday when a pickup truck with faulty headlights carried their parents to death in a roadside ditch.

The victims of the crash were Walter Baker and his pregnant wife, Regina, both 31. Left facing an uncertain future were Pauline Baker, 12; Theresa, 11; Timothy, 9; Loretta, 8; Susan, 7; Jeffery, 6; Gerald, 3; Monica, 2, and Philip, 1.

Vaccine May Chase Common Cold Cause

CHICAGO (UPI) — An influenza virus may be a cause of common colds, a group of doctors said yesterday. If so, they said, there are indications a preventive medicine would prove effective in combatting them.

The doctors, reporting in the current journal of the American Medical Association, emphasized not all of the respiratory illness which occurred during a study of Marines at Camp Lejeune, N.C., could be associated with the virus, called Coxsackie A-21.

But the AMA, in an accompanying editorial, said the Coxsackie A-21 findings indicate "important new information" about the nature of colds in adults will be forthcoming.

Group A Coxsackie viruses are a group of "hardy agents of small size" which commonly inhabit men's intestinal tract, the doctrs said.

An About Face

THE MOST significant thing about President Kennedy's proposal for establishing an Atlantic alliance trade partnership is that it marks a complete reversal of the present American policy of supporting the full development of the European Common Market.

Apparently Washington has finally realized that the organization of a highly protected common market area in Europe will constitute a dangerous economic threat to the rest of the free world. Thus the American government now wakes up to the hazards so clearly seen by the Diefenbaker government more than six months ago.

In its previous backing of the Common Market—recently mainly concerned with urging Britain to enter as a full partner—the United States concentrated most of its thought on the political aspects of a united Europe, paying little heed to the economic implications.

This was understandable to a degree. In sponsoring the movement, the American government visualized a sort of United States of Europe, militarily and politically strong, and well able to remove much of the responsibility for defending its territories against Communist aggression from the shoulders of the American people.

If the Kennedy administration did give any thought at all to the economic aspects it was related purely to the amount of money the United States spent in maintaining its bases and troops abroad—an amount totalling more than three billion dollars a year. It was then Washington's thought that a strong and independent European bloc would be able to take over its own defence and thus obviate to a large degree the necessity of American support.

It was not until the latter months of 1961, when the question of Britain's entry into the ECM was raised along with its attendant protests from Canada and the Commonwealth, that the fact fully dawned upon the United States government that the Common Market with its high tariff wall could wreck the economies of many of the Western nations left out.

Mr. Kennedy himself first began to express his worries about the situation in November, when at a news conference he admitted he was concerned over the fact that American companies "locked out" of the ECM because of high tariffs would feel that the only way they could get into the market would be through investing in Western Europe and "therefore we will have capital leaving which will cost jobs."

He continued: "Every time an American firm invests in Europe and builds its company there, it hires European workers and not American workers . . . therefore we have to have the ability to negotiate with the Common Market so that American goods can enter the Market and we will not have American capital jumping the wall in order to compete. . ."

It is more than evident that President Kennedy failed to receive any assurances for the entry of American goods into Europe from the ECM authorities and has now been forced in the interests of the economy of his own country to offer his new NATO market plan as an alternative. Thus is he now moving to break down the very thing he helped to build.

Power Views Swing

THE SUPPORT of an age-tarnished Liberal policy of no hydro-electric export by the present Conservative government at Ottawa is becoming less tenable every day.

It seems strange that the government should cling to one of the planks of its greatest political rival, particularly when now it seems clear that the big body of informed Canadian opinion is against it.

The persistent refusal of the federal government, under the lead of Justice Minister Davie Fulton, to allow British Columbia to sell its downstream entitlement to the U.S., is threatening to kill the Columbia treaty.

While possibly it is true that this treaty does not contain all the advantages that Canadians, or sections of Canadian interests, would have liked, it has to be remembered that it was devised only after over 20 years of hard bargaining by both sides of the Joint International Committee. Most people now think that to wreck the treaty on a dispute based on temporary export sale of power disagreement, would be unwise.

What are the forces now ranging themselves against Ottawa?

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce at its 1961 annual meeting recommended the government encourage the export of electric power under long-term licences.

The "Resources for Tomorrow" 1961 conference sponsored by the federal government raised no objections to the finding of the country's leading resource experts that there was no informed opposition in Canada any longer to the export of power, and its water committee recommended that foreign markets should be found for surplus power.

D. Cass-Beggs, president of the Canadian Electrical Association, has said the sale of surplus hydro energy will enable Canadian utilities to push ahead with hydro projects before the Canadian load can absorb it, and will enable them to pay for a significant part of investment in the export period with the result that later on the energy for domestic use will be at lower cost.

H. L. Keenleyside, chairman of the B.C. Commission, has said there is no other country in the world in which power exports are officially prohibited on principle and on those grounds he cannot see why Canada should think such a policy to be detrimental.

Is everyone out of step but Mr. Fulton?

There are now good reasons to believe that second thinking on the power export question is inevitable.

The Financial Post which has in the past opposed fairly strongly the export of hydro-electric power has taken a swing over in its thoughts in a recent editorial.

It says the great fight between Ottawa and Premier Bennett cannot go on much longer without major permanent loss to the Canadian economy, and that the public interest is much more important than political egos.

It voices the opinion of respected experts in the electrical field that Canada should consider selling power to the U.S. if the developments in Canada are economic, if markets can be found at profitable prices, if ironclad agreements about repatriation can be worked out and if Canadians get the cheaper power.

With the barriers against power export breaking down all over the place, Ottawa should see the writing on the wall. It would be well advised to repudiate the legacy left it by previous Liberal administrations.

Washington Calling

Talking into a Vacuum

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THOSE who are arguing the case for and against resuming nuclear testing in the atmosphere have a sense of talking into a vacuum or of conducting a debate in a closed and darkened room from which all but the debaters themselves are excluded.

The subject is highly technical and complex. While the decision that must be taken dwarfs every other issue, there is little evidence of public awareness or public opinion that might influence the outcome one way or the other.

Those arguing for delay in initiating what is almost certain to become a new round in the nuclear arms race make their case on the clearly established results of the Soviet's series of up to 50 tests that broke the moratorium. Before that series the Soviets were at a great disadvantage in nuclear weaponry, which is why they went against all their past denunciations of testing to start tests that included a 50-megaton explosion.

They had failed to keep pace with the United States in developing mobile missiles, such as the Minute Man and on the Polaris submarine. The number of their missiles sited on hardened bases was far short of what had been projected by Western intelligence two years ago. In the development of tactical nuclear arms they were far behind. The Soviet military pressed relentlessly to catch up.

* * *

Now, after an extended analysis of the Soviet tests the judgment is that the American nuclear lead is still considerable. Nothing has happened to alter the effectiveness of the American deterrent even though in one or two categories it is conceivable that the Russians have gained a lead. This last is not in the anti-missile field, where both powers have a long way to go.

Therefore, the argument against testing at once runs that the United States can hold off for two or three years, or even longer. This would open the way to a pause in the arms race in which a serious attempt at the beginning of disarmament with inspection and control could be made. If this possible opening is lost, it is hard to see when another will occur, and sooner or later a nuclear war will be touched off which could be all the more devastating because of the continued race.

* * *

The argument on the other side, as it comes from the Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission, is a familiar one. This country can not take the risk that in secrecy the Soviet Union may prepare for an even more extensive test series that next time will definitely put them in the lead. There is added in the present instance a political argument to the effect that the United States must show its power in nuclear tests to be at least as potent as those the other side set off in the early fall. This is a counter to the contention that by refraining from testing this country holds the respect of the neutral and uncommitted nations.

Those favoring an immediate start are also insisting that underground tests are of little value. It is ironic that only a short time ago they were saying that such tests were so important the United Sates could not enter a test ban treaty that left them undetected and uncontrolled. The American detection system used to monitor the recent Russian tests was so highly developed that it caught two underground shots, one of ten kilotons and one of only five, which shows how empty this contention was.

* * *

Preparations for atmospheric testing are rapidly going forward so that all will be in readiness if the decision is to go ahead. The president has said that he wants the new tests to be as clean as possible and strictly limited to the minimum essential to national security.

There is a more sophisticated argument than that being made by the military. And it is likely to prevail. It is to the effect that the present political climate makes it impossible for the president to hold off. In the face of the Soviet stand on Berlin this would be taken as a sign of weakness. In consequence the course of events will probably be as follows:

Preparations for atmospheric testing in the Pacific will be completed by the end of March, and the British will have granted the United States permission to use their facilities on Christmas Island.

The atmospheric tests will begin shortly thereafter and they will coincide with a new wave of fallout carried over from the Soviet series.

While the Soviets will be unprepared for a major endeavor they will respond by setting off a series of quickly improvised propaganda blasts. Their military can be counted on to demand immediate preparation to "catch up" with the latest American developments.

When, if this proves to be the course of events in the next three months, there will be another possible pause—another opportunity to try for a start at disarmament—no one can foresee.

That is why those making the case for delay, for a "wait and see," feel a sense of urgency bordering on desperation.

In South Viet Nam

Radical Reforms Needed

By JOHN STIRLING, from Saigon

THE Communists and anti-Communists in South Viet Nam have one purpose in common—to win over the eight million peasants in the villages of the fecund Mekong Delta. Both sides claim that the other camp scores its successes with the peasants simply by terror. To what extent is this true? What do the rice farmers really think about the Viet Cong (Communist) guerillas, and about President Ngo Dinh Diem?

The answers to these questions — vital for South Viet Nam — are not easy to obtain. The average Vietnamese peasant prefers to keep his own counsel. His self-contained attitude to life is shown in the construction of the villages themselves, which are not, as in other countries in Southeast Asia, grouped around a central square or temple, but strung along the roads and canals. The peasant in the Mekong Delta does not talk freely to his own people; far less does he reveal his thoughts to the foreigner.

However, a recent study of a group of hamlets in the delta, carried out by experts from Michigan State University, gives valuable pointers. The section of the country covered by this survey is the village complex of My Thuan, in Vinh Long province, 80 miles southeast of Saigon.

* * *

The 16,000 people of My Thuan live in 11 hamlets. Their thatched huts, built along the slow-flowing tributaries of the Song Cai river, shadowed by tamarind and neem trees, give an impression of timeless rustic peace. But the reality is different.

The inhabitants live every day under the menace of the Viet Cong guerillas. Only a few weeks before the research team arrived in the village, one of the hamlet chiefs had been murdered by the Viet Cong. His successor had already received a threatening letter from the local Viet Cong "regiment," advising him not to take up his duties, or his life would be in danger. He wanted to resign, but the village chief of My Thuan begged him not to, pointing out that if hamlet officials refused to carry out their duties, there would be no way of maintaining the government of the country.

The hamlet chiefs throughout Viet Nam have a key role in the administration. They are the link between the government in Saigon and the mass of the population. In times of peace, their appointment is a mark of prestige, and the reward of loyalty to the government. My Thuan's 11 hamlet chiefs are responsible for transmitting, by word of mouth, all government orders and instructions, which they in turn have received, also orally, from the village chief.

* * *

In fact, none of the village officials in My Thuan dares to exert his full authority. One hamlet chief remarked: "Although the officials want the villagers to resist the Viet Cong, they cannot give them security." This hamlet chief clearly expressed the problem of the ordinary people.

The villagers don't want to take sides. They are more interested in making a living than getting into trouble. But they felt that they had no protection from the guerillas, and when the Viet Cong came into the hamlets at night, no one would inform the authorities for fear of retaliation. "The people here feel insecure," the chief declared, "because they think the military is too weak to cope with the Viet Cong."

* * *

In My Thuan the poison of fear and distrust has seeped through every level of the community. The hamlet officials distrust each other because they do not know which of their number is under the thumb of the terrorists. The previous head of the village council had been removed from office because one of his sons was found to be a Viet Cong officer. Even the Civil Guard—the only armed troops in the village — do not trust each other. Because of the atmosphere of suspicion, the government's main source of intelligence about the Viet Cong—the ordinary villager—has almost dried up.

* * *

Security is the key problem. To protect this community of 16,000 people there is one company of Civil Guard—a paramilitary organization armed with rifles and a "self-defence" corps of 1,400 of the villagers themselves, equipped with bamboo poles and rattles. In theory, My Thuan can at any time appeal for help to the nearest Army post. But there is no telephone in the village, and the local officials have no transportation, except their own bicycles.

By the time the villagers' appeals for help have reached the army, the Viet Cong will have slipped into a hamlet, held a political rally or a drumhead trial, collected "taxes," and vanished again into the night.

But simply to shift more troops into My Thuan will not solve all its problems. The survey reveals that its leaders are not only frightened, but underpaid and therefore unenthusiastic in their work.

One man pointed out that the failure of the government's programs at the village level was due mainly to the inefficiency of the village cadres.

"Generally, the people here are in favor of government policies," this official said, "but they don't like the people who carry out the policies." Some of the villagers feel that the higher officials abuse their power. They resent being compelled to work on the agrovilles — the new towns which the government is building in every district in the Mekong Delta.

* * *

Apathy, if not actual hostility, seems to be the general attitude of the villagers of My Thuan towards the Saigon goverment. Nor will this attitude be changed by suddenly installing Western-style parliamentary democracy in Saigon. The needs of the people are much simpler.

Competent, well-trained village heads and a better understanding of the villagers' needs by district and provincial officials would make a world of difference to My Thuan. To overcome the "mandarin complex" of Vietnamese officials is a difficult, but essential reform. Even if it is carried out there will remain, like a thundercloud on the horizon, the menace of the Viet Cong terrorists.

These two problems, of maladministration and insecurity, weigh heavily upon the people of My Thuan, as they do upon millions of other villagers in South Viet Nam. Solutions to both problems have been promised by President Diem's government and by the United States. Judging from the conditions in My Thuan, the solutions must be radical, and must be swiftly applied.

Policies Nebulous

Brazil in Trouble

By Copley News Service

IT has been said that the future of Latin America is dependent on the future of its largest nation — Brazil. And Brazil is in trouble, according to its highest economic official.

Finance Minister Walter Moreira Salles was outspoken in a recent pessimistic speech made in Rio de Janeiro.

"In spite of the fact that I am a member of the government," he said, "I must say that Brazil is passing through a very serious situation."

Brazil's economic policies have become increasingly nebulous in the few months since former President Janio Quadros resigned and Vice President Joao Goulart took over the vast country along with Premier Tancredo Neves.

The finance minister said that while Brazil is "threatened by various dangers . . . we are still safe from the total loss of which so much is being said."

He said Brazil must act quickly to correct the situation and "apply heroic cures to our ills."

"Do you know what the collapse of the UN would mean? We'd go home and be nobodies again."

The first objective is to restore confidence in Brazil, he said, and he asked members of the "producing classes" to make sacrifices to meet this end.

He described agrarian reform as a chief goal of the present government.

"Until today, no formula for an agrarian reform has been invented which benefits man by reducing the fruits of his work," he said. The agrarian reform must "do justice to the worker by giving him a greater share of the fruit of his work."

The finance minister said reform of the banking system had also been called for. He said it was indispensable.

"We must do away with usury and we must give more service to various firms needing credit," he said. "We must work out a more simple and efficient credit system."

Regarding foreign capital, he said he was convinced it can be both "disciplined" and "secure." Brazil's Chamber of Deputies recently passed a bill curbing export of profits by foreign business concerns. Moreira Salles said that whether this passes the senate or not, Brazil must remain a nation "where foreign capital will find the attraction of security so that it will come here to exercise its fruitful action."

"If we cannot achieve internal savings and if we do not receive the capital which we want to enter our country, how are we to face the absolute need to develop?" he asked. "This cannot be achieved by printing money."

The finance minister appealed to Brazilians "to help the nation achieve the political and social peace which it does not have today."

"Brazil is not lost," he said. "Our duty is in fighting against pessimism and unrest in all social groups."

Report From Ottawa

Effective Legislation

By ARTHUR BLAKELY

FOR many years, experts have been warning that Canadian rivers and streams were being transformed into outsized drainage ditches at an alarming rate and that the nation's vital water resources were being squandered by pollution on an immense scale, with grave economic and social consequences.

A key item in the government's legislative program for the last session of Parliament was one designed to deal with this pollution problem.

Legislation authorized the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to make long term loans to municipalities for approved projects for sewage disposal and treatment, up to a maximum of two-thirds of the costs of such projects. Loan terms were made similar to those for limited dividend housing project loans. As a special incentive to local authorities to launch sewage treatment and disposal projects the government was authorized to write off a quarter of the amount of any such loan actually spent on such projects before April, 1963.

If the legislation was recognized as important—as it was—it was not one of those spectacular measures calculated to inspire wild enthusiasm by its supporters. Neither did it give rise to a fiery and protracted debate of the kind that would focus public attention on it. It secured a quiet and orderly passage.

* * *

A progress report secured from the public works department suggests that the legislation, whatever its public appeal, has found widespread acceptance among Canadian municipalities which are using it to launch long-delayed projects to restore the water resources in their areas.

As of Dec. 12, a total of 140 loans had been approved amounting, in all, to $39,299,000.

Newfoundland has had two loans for a total of $116,000, Prince Edward Island four for $75,000; Nova Scotia one for $53,000; New Brunswick three for $85,000; Quebec three for $241,000; Ontario 49 for $24,144,000; Manitoba seven for $274,000; Saskatchewan 43 for $1,822,000; Alberta 11 for $1,645,000 and British Columbia 17 for $9,841,000.

This record, the latest available, is already out of date with the approval of other loans.

It is known that, as of last month, CMHC had received inquiries from 223 municipalities. Apart from the 140 loans approved, 147 municipalities had proceeded far enough with their planning to indicate that additional loans in the amount of some $80,000,000 would be involved. And since last month, new inquiries have come forward.

It is regarded as an impressive record for a piece of legislation that has been in effect for only a few months. Parliament set a ceiling of $200,000,000 on the total amount that CMHC may have out on loan for projects of this kind at any one time. Funds are still available, but it is evident that the ceiling was not set too high.

* * *

The early returns demonstrate clearly a wide variation from province to province in demand for the loans.

Maximum use is being made of the legislation by municipalities in Ontario and B.C., followed by water-conscious Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The much smaller flow of applications from the Maritime provinces is attributed to the fact that many of their municipalities are located on tide water. More surprising is the slight extent to which Quebec municipalities have taken advantage of the loan provisions. A factor here may be confusion resulting from the creation of a Quebec Water Purification Board with wide powers.

But the Quebec total, too, should soon begin to increase rapidly. As of Dec. 12, a total of 44 Quebec inquiries had been received. Of these, 21 indicated a total loan potential in excess of $14,000,000. Largest of these is from Montreal, which is undertaking a survey of its requirements which may ultimately result in total expenditures of some $60,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Meanwhile, the heavy demand from Ontario cities, towns and villages shows every sign of continuing. Further loan applications from Toronto alone, in substantial amounts, are expected this year. The Ontario loan potential evident as of last month would involve an additional outlay of some $53,000,000.

British Columbia, the other pacesetter, has provided additional applications or inquiries the approval stage. As of Dec. 12 municipalities were involved, with substantial loan requirements indicated by the municipalities of Ladner and Surrey.

The Packsack

All Hand-Made

By GREGORY CLARK

IN Paris I saw historic paintings of Napoleon's Grand Army in action. He had 130,000 men at his command. Every regiment had a different uniform in some respect, and some of the marshals' sections had ornate uniforms of unique design and decoration.

Who made the uniforms for this seventh of a million men? There were no sewing machines in those days. Every stitch of all that vast army wardrobe with all its colors, facings, lace and embroidery was done by hand.

The dress uniforms, the service uniforms, the fatigues, the greatcoats, capes, bustles, sashes and other ornate headgear they wore, all had to be done, every one, by somebody's hands.

And the boots? There were no trains, trucks or buses on which to transport his armies all over Europe and up into Russia. It was all done on the march. Who made the boots, every half million of them custom made as we now say, bench made?

This is a little angle on war-making that we are liable to overlook when we compare the past with the machine-made present, and all of us in fuzzy olive-drab.

Handle with Care —It's Philip's Car

HALIFAX (UPI)—Stevedores took extra care Thursday night when they lowered a new red and black Chevrolet convertible into the hold of the freighter Sunmar.

The car, built at Oshawa, Ont., is being taken to Georgetown, British Guiana, for the Duke of Edinburgh when he visits there in February.

Symphony Concert

Young Guest Pianist Cheered in Duncan

By BERT BINNY

DUNCAN—Stirring applause that erupted into cheers from an audience of more than 500 greeted the performance of 17-year-old pianist Patricia Perrin here last night.

As guest artist with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra she played Mozart's ninth concerto, in E flat, major.

FUTURE PROMISE

Miss Perrin is a young musician whose past performance, present standards and future promise are outstandingly high.

Her playing is delightfully secure technically excellent and vital without, as yet, being electrifying. If little weaknesses occur, they are such as more experience and freer interpretation must surely eliminate.

SPECIAL FRIEND

For a well-deserved encore, she played Brams Intermezzo in C major and this, she announced, was "for a special friend."

The program opened with Beethoven's famous "Eroica" symphony. This is a lengthy composition for some a bit too lengthy—and it occupied the whole first half of the concert.

SLIGHT LACK

The playing by the orchestra last night was particularly incisive and effective in the bold, heroic passages, though there seemed to be a slight lack of the usual assurance towards the end of the second movement.

The "Eroica" gives all sections of the orchestra golden opportunities to shine and because of this it is interesting to players and audience alike.

The orchestra maintained the interest successfully.

The concert concluded with Tchaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet" overture and it will be heard again at the Royal Theatre in Victoria Sunday afternoon and Monday evening.

The seventh symphony concert will be played at Sidney Feb. 2 and in Victoria Feb. 4 and 5.

EVENS COMING

The guest conductor will be Clifford Evens, formerly concertmaster with the Victoria orchestra and the program includes John Weinzweig's "Symphonic Ode," Schubert's "Unfinished" symphony, "Don Juan" by Richard Strauss and Dvorak's fourth symphony.

Prayer Cover For Strike Says Group

MONTREAL (CP)—J. J. Spector, spokesman for the Fur Dressers and Dyers Association, last night denounced some 1,000 employees across Canada for using religion "as a cover for an illegal strike."

A work stoppage involving some 600 employees here, 300 men in Toronto and 100 workers in Winnipeg, continued yesterday as the workers held further meetings in "praying" for successful contract talks.

A spokesman for the union said the men were not on strike.

"We are still in meditation," said William Geffner.

Licence Delayed

Trading Stamp Ban Fails in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—An alderman and the city licence inspector acted Friday to ban trading stamps from Vancouver, but the corporation solicitor said there is nothing the city can do.

Licence inspector Milton Harrell said he had delayed approval of a licence renewal application made by Shop Easy Stores, one of two grocery firms in the city which have introduced trading stamp schemes, pending a decision by council.

CANCEL LICENCES

Alderman Hayford Wilson gave notice he will ask council Tuesday to withdraw trade licences from any other firms which embark on such stamp schemes.

However, solicitor Russell Baker said in a report to council the city has no power to refuse licences or revoke them unless the schemes are unlawful under the Criminal Code. The code does not prohibit stamp schemes run by the stores themselves.

STAMPS GIVEN

The stamps are given according to the amount of a customer's purchases and are redeemable for "prizes."

The second firm which has introduced such a scheme in Vancouver, Super-Valu Stores, received a one-year licence renewal in December. A third chain, Loblaws, has introduced a similar scheme at a store in suburban Burnaby.

TOOK PAPER SPACE

Thirty organizations including department stores and trade associations, took advertising space in Vancouver newspapers Friday to protest the use of trading stamps.

Saved Town Hails Its 'Heroic Fools'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gallant volunteer firemen and narrow escapes were described Friday after a $2,000,000 fire ravaged through a remote fishing cannery on the BC coast.

Storekeeper Pat Patterson praised fire fighters who battled for hours against the flames which heavily damaged the $4,000,000 BC Packers cannery at Namu.

"When you fight a fire like they did with what they had to work with, all I can say is they worked like fools," said Patterson. "How they held it down I don't know."

A stiff offshore wind fanned the flames over the cannery, cold storage sheds, power house, general store, manager's residence shops and other waterfront buildings.

Firemen said an offshore wind would have made it impossible for them to save homes in the settlement of 250 people, the herring reduction plant, net lofts and fish oil storage tanks.

Fire started on the second floor of the cannery, where 20 men were working. By the time the alarm sounded, several had to leap to dockside fishing boats to escape.

Only casualty was cannery worker Gunnar Tofton, who hurt his leg jumping onto a roof.

BC Packers president J. M. Buchanan said the firm had no thought of abandoning the cannery.

My Plan Benefits You Douglas Tells Doctors

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas said Friday his party's health insurance plan would benefit both doctors and patients.

Douglas told the local Hippocratic Society the health scheme based on prepayment would "ensure the family physician remains the bulwark of modern medicine."

He said there was "growing appreciation of the fact that medical care is not a commercial commodity which should be available only to those able to pay for it."

The NDP plan would "not only assist those unable to afford adequate medical care, but would also provide money for training of doctors, refresher courses and post graduate studies and medical research."

Logger Letter

'Bus Promised Us'

DUNCAN — Applicants for jobs with Hillcrest Lumber Co logging division were told as late as last fall that free transportation would be provided to Mesachie Lake, an open letter to the public from 70 loggers said yesterday.

The company announced Nov. 6 it planned to cancel the bus service this month.

The loggers say the work day for an employee of the Hillcrest logging division at Duncan runs from 5:45 a.m. when he boards the bus until he returns to Duncan at 5:15 p.m.

"For these three hours and 30 minutes above his regular eight hours working time the man working at Hillcrest receives no compensation other than free transportation," the letter says.

The loggers said the cost of the bus is completely deductible for the company.

They claimed the cost of a bus is negligible in return for the benefit to the company in having a dependable crew arriving at the same time.

"The company has stated it bonuses the loggers with free transportation, something those living in Mesachie Lake are not receiving," says the letter. "We loggers renting in Duncan have shown willingness to move into company-owned houses.

"The company spokesman told us there is no housing available. But you may put your name on the long waiting list. For single personnel there is a bunkhouse available but the cookhouse has been closed down recently."

"The" loggers also said suitable housing at Lake Cowichan is limited and the company has been well aware loggers were building their own homes in the Duncan and Lake Cowichan areas.

"Surely the company does not expect us to sell or dispose of our property just to accommodate an economy measure."

Wife Barter Deal

Husband Wins $3,000

TORONTO (CP)—A Hungarian immigrant, who earlier described a barter deal involving his wife, his furniture and a friend's car, Friday was awarded $2,500 for criminal conversation and alienation of affection.

A supreme Court jury granted Charles Nagy $2,400 after it decided his friend, John Dobrei, 32, had committed adultery with Nagy's wife.

FOR ALIENATION

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer added $300 for alienation of affection.

Testimony disclosed the 29-year-old husband and his friend made a deal whereby the wife would choose between them. If the husband won, the friend would leave town. If he lost, the friend would move in and the husband would leave in the friend's car.

FOR SIX DAYS

The wife went with Dobrei for six days. The husband, who couldn't drive, later launched the suit against Dobrei.

Chief Justice McRuer said he assessed "not much more than nominal" damages on the lost affection suit because Mrs. Nagy returned to her husband and because the "plaintiff cannot have two sets of damages on the same considerations."

FOR SUFFERING

The chief justice said:

"She repented very early in the episode—and that's very important. The real damage that the husband suffered was largely compensated for by the award of the jury."

Liberals' Ship Expert Lacks Black Ball Pass

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liberal leader Ray Perrault said Friday an announcement will be made Tuesday about the Black Ball ferry service and a San Francisco marine expert who the Liberal party is bringing here to examine the service.

Mr. Perrault would not say how Capt. Irvine Hansen, being brought here to evaluate the service recently taken over by the provincial government, will get on board the Black Ball vessels and how he will evaluate them.

Premier Bennett has not given Capt. Hansen a pass.

Mr. Perrault said the expert was not yet in town.

The Liberal party says the government paid too much when it put out $4,600,000 for the vessels and $2,100,000 for Black Ball terminals.

Oil in North Canada Told

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada can become one of the world's top oil producers by using untapped northern reserves to crack the European and Pacific markets, a resources department study forecast last night.

The survey, prepared by Alberta economist G. D. Quirin, said geological conditions on the northern mainland and Arctic islands favored the accumulation of large oil and gas reserves.

Ford Strike On Today

TORONTO (CP) — The United Auto Workers officially went on strike against Ford of Canada at midnight Friday.

Full effects will not be felt until Monday.

Talks between union and management spokesmen are scheduled to continue throughout the weekend.

Key Stocks Stage Rally Near Close

TORONTO (CP) — Northgate Explorations moved into the limelight on the stock market overshadowing a late surge by industrials.

The speculative mining issue closed ahead $1.50 at $5.15 on extremely heavy turnover.

Industrials came back from losses early in the day to finish ahead, mainly on the strength of gains to key index issues.

Base metals were strengthened by gains to Ventures, Falconbridge, International Nickel and Noranda.

Abitibi Advances

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks were moderately higher in active trading.

General Dynamics was the big gainer, adding 1¾ to 35½. Abitibi at 41 rose a point.

Walker fell ⅛ to 57 among the losers. Page-Hersey dropped ⅛ to 24⅛ and Dominion Bridge fell ½ to 25¾ in heavy trading.

Papers were mixed. Consolidated Paper dropped ⅛ to 43. Price added ⅛ to 56 and Moore was up ⅛ at 51⅛.

Among base metals Canadian British Aluminium fell ⅛ to 9⅛ and Hudson Bay was up ⅛ at 56⅛.

Banks were quiet.

Recovery Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to recover, putting together two straight daily advances for the first time in 1962.

After a good advance in the morning, however, trading slackened and prices backed away from their best levels. Near the close a renewed buying wave, accompanied by a late ticker tape, boosted a number of key stocks into higher ground.

Biggest news of the day—and it came after the market close — was the well-anticipated agreement to merge the New York Central and the Pennsylvania Railroads. Central was up ⅛ and Pennsylvania ⅛. A number of the aerospace issues continued to advance.

The tone was generally higher among utilities, rails, oils, electronics and airlines.

Paper Profits Shrink

Drop Eased By Exchange

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Holders of Canadian newsprint shares will hope that the 1961 results of Consolidated Paper are not going to establish a trend for the industry.

Despite a whopping advantage gained in the lowering of the exchange value of the Canadian dollar, Consolidated Paper failed to do as well as it had done in 1960. Net profit and sales were both down.

Its 1961 earnings were $15,100,783 ($2.55 a share) compared with $16,089,683 ($2.72) in 1960, and sales were down at $119,000,000 from $119,600,000.

If Consolidated had not made $1,400,000 from its dollar exchange account, compared with a 1960 loss on that account of $1,900,000, the profit picture would have been considerably worse.

IRISH VENTURE

Northgate Exploration, this week's explosive on the Toronto Stock Exchange is proposing to advance up to $500,000 to it subsidiary Irish Base Metals which is now doing some exploratory drilling in western Ireland.

It has sold 100,000 treasury shares to J. L. Goad and Co. of Toronto and has optioned 300,000 further shares at prices of $3, $3.50 and $4.

CIGARETS BOOM

Cigaret manufacturers think they may have been Canada's No. 1 growth industry in 1961.

J. H. Devlin, president of Rothman's, says that for the 11 months to Nov. 30, cigaret sales in Canada were up 8.3 per cent from the previous year.

He said his own firm's growth was almost double that of the figure for the industry.

Mr. Devlin predicted a further swing towards king size cigarets following the government's decision to allow a higher tobacco content without increase in tax.

HALF AND HALF

Canadian Breweries announces that half of all its Carling brand sales were made in the United States through its U.S. subsidiary Carling Brewing Co. in 1961. The U.S. firm produced 5,040,000 barrels, up 4.5 per cent from the previous year.

U.S. Railways Plan to Merge

NEW YORK (UPI) — Directors of Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central Railroad announced they have approved a plan to merge the nation's two largest roads.

A joint merger application will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission "probably within 30 days," a joint announcement by Pennsy chairman James M. Symes and Central President Alfred E. Perlman said.

The name of the merged company will be "Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Company."

Under terms of the proposal New York Central shareholders would receive 1.3 shares of common stock in the merged company for each share of stock now held and Pennsylvania stockholders would receive 1 share of common stock for each share now held.

Pennsylvania shareholders would have 60.8 per cent of the shares of the new company and New York Central shareholders 39.2 per cent.

THIS CONCERNS INCOME TAX SAVINGS and your financial security on retirement

Canadian taxpayers are permitted to contribute annually up to 10% of their earned income (to a maximum of $2500) to a registered Retirement Savings Plan and deduct this contribution from their taxable income for the year. All contributions to a registered plan made after the end of the taxation year and before February 28 are applicable to the taxation year. The benefits are substantial:

Annual Earned Income	Maximum Allowable Contribution	Your Tax Savings	Tax Savings as % of Contribution
$ 7,500	$ 750	$ 165	22%
10,000	1,000	260	26%
12,500	1,250	395	32%
15,000	1,500	570	38%
25,000	2,500	1,125	45%

Based on 1961 Income Tax Rates for married taxpayer with no dependents.

It is impossible to say with absolute certainty that any retirement savings plan established today will assure adequate purchasing power 20 or 30 years from now. If, however, historical evidence is an acceptable guide one must consider that surplus savings placed in a well managed Mutual Fund offer a good means of safeguarding your retirement income against the consequences of inflation.

Narcotics Sold Again On Vancouver Streets

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police said Friday illicit drugs are on sale again on Vancouver streets.

But the price is $10 a capsule—$8 if bought in quantity — against $5 before the arrest of 32 persons on narcotic trafficking conspiracy charges Tuesday and Wednesday.

Police said a new shipment of heroin arrived here from Eastern Canada.

Addicts were in a panic when supplies were shut off as a result of the arrests, police said. Several cases of collapse were reported.

Fighting Liberal Dies

BALCARRES, Sask. (UPI) — James G. Gardiner, who served a record 22 years as federal agriculture minister, died of cancer yesterday at the age of 78.

A bantam-sized Liberal politician who had talked about a comeback until the last few months, he won his first election in the provincial field in 1914 and did not suffer defeat until the Conservative sweep of 1958.

PREMIER, TOO

He was agriculture minister from 1935 to 1957 and before that premier of Saskatchewan.

Tributes flowed in from Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Liberal leader Pearson down to the local farmers who knew Gardiner when he himself tilled the soil.

Mr. Diefenbaker said of him: "An outstanding parliamentarian, he had given more than 40 years of his life to dominion and provincial public service. He was a fighter for the causes he espoused."

Mr. Pearson said: "Canada lost one of her most distinguished public men, one who served her in political life with devotion, drive and imagination for nearly half a century."

MUCH ADVICE

R. W. Mayhew, former federal fisheries minister, said in Victoria there are monuments throughout Canada to Mr. Gardiner's foresight and courage.

"I personally will never forget the many times he gave me advice and helped me greatly."

He introduced much of the agricultural legislation now on the books.

His long service won for him in 1947 membership in the imperial privy council in London, making him one of the few non-prime ministers of Canada to hold the honor.

It entitled him to be called "Right Honorable" for the balance of his life.

Mr. Gardiner was a battler in and out of parliament. After his defeat in 1958 he returned home and continued as one of the Liberals' best organizers and strategists.

His son Wilfrid is a Liberal member of the Saskatchewan legislature.

Ross Returns Home After Major Surgery

Former B.C. lieutenant-governor Frank M. Ross has returned to his Vancouver home after undergoing major surgery three times in the past nine weeks.

Mr. Ross, 70, is reported in excellent condition.

He will rest at his Clover dale ranch for many weeks before returning to full-time business.

Park Area Stroll For Nature Group

Saanich panhandle, off Thetis Lake Road, will be given a thorough going-over by "A" group of the junior branch of Victoria Natural History Society today.

Group is hoping to discover early blooming spring plants in the sheltered area and will make a mineralogy study during the afternoon trip.

Trip will start from the Monterey parking lot at 1.30 p.m.

Sunday a work party will meet at Francis Park at 10 a.m. to put in the foundation for a nature house.

WHO'S BOSS?: Disappointing is the only way to describe recent events which have taken place in the Pacific Coast Soccer League, which, if it continues along the route it has recently taken, will lose all the ground it has gained this season in first-half play.

With interest at a new high, due in large part to the unexpectedly good showing of Victoria United and the frantic support of new Canadians for the Columbus team in Vancouver, the league was unable to schedule a league match in Victoria until Jan. 27.

That was bad enough, but the reason is utterly inexcusable. The league "asked" Columbus to open the second-half schedule here today, got a refusal. Then it asked New Westminster to play here today, and got another "no." It all ended when United refused to play today in Vancouver.

Most fans have long labored under the delusion that the league draws up a schedule for the clubs to play and one can only say that if the PCSL has to ask the clubs to play and meekly accepts refusal that it's not long for this world. It's rather amazing for what was thought to be a strong executive.

And its action, or lack of action, may well have killed the spark of interest which promised bigger crowds here for the second half of the schedule.

United's last league game at home was played on Dec. 2. The next will be on Jan. 27—an interval of eight weeks. Since Dec. 2 United has played two Anderson Cup games at home. The last was a beautifully-played 6-2 win over Royals on Dec. 23 which still has soccer fans here buzzing. Interest rose still more when United was unlucky to lose, 2-1, to Columbus in Vancouver—a match which attracted more than 100 Victorians.

Those two matches could have "made" soccer here this season. After a first half in which Victoria fans who used to sturdily support PCSL also-rans surprisingly failed to support a bona fide contender, it seemed that we were on our way at last. But Columbus refused to come because team officials claimed a week wasn't long enough to arrange for buses to bring their fans.

So the PCSL yielded and left an interval of five weeks between matches here. There has to be a lack of reasoning, as well as lack of control, when setting up the largest crowd of the season here has to take second place to accommodating a few score Columbus fans who might have wished to travel with their team.

It had seemed that, for the first time in history, the PCSL finally had gotten around to thinking Victoria was an asset. Now we can't be at all sure.

THIS IS SLANDER?: Darrell Lorimer is a fine athlete, and those I know who know him say he is a fine young man. And that he must be, because the worst that has ever been written or said about him appears to be that he "has often been referred to as the Viking who doesn't attend university but plays for the team anyway."

This, a self-appointed indignation committee of one writes, seems to make Lorimer "perhaps the most-maligned figure in city basketball."

Lorimer, his "friend" further states, feels that this description of him is unfair and that many students at Victoria University "would hate to see him quit when his absence from the ivy halls is strictly temporary."

No one blames Lorimer for playing for the university basketball team even though he isn't a student, but one can certainly question the policy which makes this possible. It is, to say the least, an almost unique practice and one which will have to be discontinued if Victoria University plans—as it must—to take part in inter-scholastic sports.

We all hope Darrell's temporary absence from the "ivy halls" is a short one indeed, and we all envy a fellow who is considered to be slandered when he is referred to as "the Viking who doesn't attend university but plays for the team anyway." Would that our enemies be so kind and, if they were, that our friends would let well enough alone.

In Business at Last

In business after more than a year of preparation, Victoria Sno-Birds' Green Mountain ski development near Nanaimo Lakes is absorbing hosts of skiers every weekend. Rope tow is in operation and snowmobile will be soon. Skiing conditions are described as good, as any of above group would testify.

But Nothing Definite

University Has Plans For Sports Program

By JIM TAYLOR

Development of sports facilities is not being ignored in the $5,000,000-plus expansion program at Victoria University, but there has been no definite sum set aside for an athletic program.

That was the word yesterday from athletic co-ordinator Fred Martens as he outlined the proposed athletic development program over the next few years.

"There are roughly 30 acres of land set aside at the Gordon Head grounds for sports facilities in the over-all plan," he said. "But we can't make any definite plans or set aside any definite sum because there is no way of knowing for sure in what sports the university teams will be taking an active part.

BIT BY BIT

"You have to walk before you run, so we will go at the sports question slowly, developing it bit by bit as situations arise, in much the same way as the new campus will go up building by building."

That 30 acres of ground may someday have a track on it, and perhaps a stadium, he said. But that is in the distant future.

For the moment, the university will use its regular policy for sports, in which the Students' Athletic Council takes an allocated percentage of student fees and decides which teams to sponsor.

ON THEIR OWN

"We like to see the students go out and develop their own teams," Martens said. "Two years ago I was approached about a hockey team, and told the boy to go out and check into the financial aspect of it.

"He returned and said he didn't believe it was feasible. But last year there were more boys wanting hockey. They bought their own equipment and paid for their own ice time.

"This year, with a team in the Esquimalt Commercial League, hockey has really caught on. At the moment it is by far the best-supported sport at the university."

SLOW DEVELOPMENT

Meanwhile, development of sports facilities goes on slowly and steadily.

There is currently one sports field at Gordon Head, but another was seeded last year for use in September, and there are plans for a third. It must wait, however, until plans are completed for location of all future buildings.

SECOND YEAR

The Vikings basketball team is in its second year of competition with American junior colleges. The rugby team travels once a year to Bellingham and the girls' basketball team is reportedly due for trips to Vancouver for tournament experience.

In these trips are the beginnings of future series and perhaps leagues with other universities.

LONG TASK

It's a long and difficult task but the start has been made.

* * *

One of the things that will be done away with in the sports program, and likely next year, is the controversial "one in six" rule set up by the athletic council.

The rule states that every university team may use one outside player for every five players attending university. Although it came under fire for the first time this year, it has been in force for about six years. Now it has obviously outlived its usefulness.

NOT ENOUGH

Originally, it was brought in because the small student body wasn't producing enough good players to fill out teams. There had to be outside players if there were to be strong teams.

But with the student body due to increase to about 2,000 next year, the idea of bringing in outside help is ridiculous. It's also a bad thing for school spirit.

MORE THAN EVER

Consider this: Martens reports that when the rule was brought in, the requests for outside players were few and far between. But today, with the student body larger than it ever has been, there are more requests than ever.

This is school spirit? If a university of more than 1,000 students can't produce enough for a hockey, basketball, grass hockey or any other sort of team, then there shouldn't be a team.

It's either a university team or it isn't.

Lorimer Paces Vikings

VANCOUVER (CP)—Victoria University Vikings, led by six-foot, five-inch centre Darrell Lorimer's 30 points, Friday edged University of B.C. Juniors 62-59 in an exhibition basketball game here.

With less than a minute to go in the game, UBC was ahead 59-58 then Victoria guard Willie Wong sank a long set shot. Lorimer clinched the game by scoring two free throws after being fouled with only 18 seconds remaining.

Forward Bill Hobbis added 11 points for the Vikings. High men for UBC were Erle Fareholtz with 16 and Gordie McKay with 14.

The teams meet again tonight.

COURTENAY (Special)—Mrs. Flora Martin and her rink of Edythe Pick, Helen Edwards and Marian Smith of the Victoria Curling Club ruled as favorites to win the Vancouver Island ladies' zone curling playdowns after the first play in the seven-rink round-robin final.

Curling steadily in both games they played, the Victorians showed an ability to come up with big ends. And they got by what might have been their toughest test in Friday's evening draw by besting Frankie Serjeant and her Nanaimo quartet 12-6.

Mrs. Martin romped past Edna Souther of Comox Valley, 15-5, in the second draw, after drawing the bye in the morning round.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Serjeant defeated Harriet McCaw's entry from Esquimalt Municipal Centre, 13-3, in the morning and took Mrs. Lillian Grandage of Comox Valley, 14-9, in the afternoon to set up the first "crucial" game of the playdowns.

Mrs. Serjeant was off to a fine start, scoring three on the second end after the first had been blanked. But Mrs. Martin got three back on the third end and broke it up when misses gave her a chance to break a 4-4 tie with a four-ender on the sixth. She stole a point on the seventh and was never in danger from there.

Tied with Nanaimo for second place are Mrs. Helen Berkey of Duncan and Mrs. Souther. Both rinks won over the Powell River and Esquimalt rinks. Comox Valley also has only one loss, Mrs. Grandage opening with a 12-9 win over Duncan and getting the bye on the third draw.

Three more draws are scheduled today with all of the rinks with less than two losses having at least two games against rinks in the top five. Any advantage in the draw would seem to be with the Victoria rink, which plays Powell River tonight and Esquimalt in the seventh, and last, draw at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Marshall, Gordon Crews Qualify for Main Event

DUNCAN (Special) — Victoria rinks skipped by Lyle Gordon and Larry Marshall were among the eight rinks which qualified for the special Grand Challenge event in Duncan's 10th annual bonspiel in Friday's play.

Marshall, one of the four unbeaten skips, reached the fours of the Wright (No. 1) event with 8-6 and 8-7 victories, respectively, over George Hobson of Courtenay and Sam Koffski of Duncan.

Marshall is set to meet Dave Dunn of Nanaimo in one semifinal on Saturday while favored Fred Duncan, skipping his Consols rink, meets Ole Carlson of Courtenay in the other semi-final.

WIDE OPEN

All four rinks in the Wright semis have won three games. Duncan, playing his wide-open game, defeated Jack Mon of Victoria, 6-1, and then took a 5-4 decision from Glen Harper, his former skip, in the eights. A missed draw by Harper on the seventh end which enabled Duncan to steal two points was the difference.

Out to the semi-finals in the Wadsworth (No. 2) event were Lyle Gordon of Victoria and Ron Harper, Vern Kaspick and Art Webb of Duncan.

JUST STARTING

Rinks reaching the fours in the top four events qualify for play in the Grand Challenge event. Play was in the eights of the third event on last night's late draw and just starting in the fourth event.

Finals in the first four events are set for 9:45 Sunday evening with Sunday devoted to completion of play in the Grand Challenge and fifth events.

In the Grand Challenge draw, rinks from the first two events come out in the top half and rinks from the third and fourth events come out in the bottom half.

First games in the Grand Challenge will be between Duncan and Marshall, Carlson and Dunn, Gordon and Kaspick and Ron Harper and Webb.

Victoria University Vikings, who started the holidays with a comfortable hold on first place in the Esquimalt Commercial Hockey League, today find themselves struggling to hold on to second.

Held to a 4-4 tie by Navy in their return to action last week, Vikings lost out, 2-1, to Army last night in one of the season's finest games. That left them deadlocked for second with the Soldiers, one point behind Esquimalt Chiefs who whipped Navy, 4-0, in the opening game.

POWER PLAY

Doug Barnborough gave Vikings the lead on a power-play goal at 12:45 of the first period, but that was the last time they were to beat Ken Villiger.

Bob Larson tied it up at 5:26 of the second period with his team shorthanded and Bob McNab was in for the winner at 8:37.

Chiefs got another standout game from goalie Ron Griffis in taking over first place.

GOOD SHARE

Griffis made 33 saves compared to only 17 for Navy's Howie Cox, as the Sailors enjoyed a good share of the play. Jim Brosson got the first goal in the first period and Ben Price scored in the second. Then it was Les Corby who had assisted on the first two goals, and league scoring leader Bob Vinling [illegible].

Skinny Sid Finney is scoring goals as of old and Calgary Stampeders are climbing back into the upper regions of the Western Hockey League again.

Finney scored three goals and had two assists as the Stampeders defeated Spokane Comets, 7-4, before 2,900 Calgary fans last night. Despite the win, Calgary stayed four points behind Edmonton Flyers in the race for northern division honors.

Edmonton got third-period goals from Lou Marcon and Warren Hynes to defeat the Canucks, 5-3, in Vancouver before more than 3,000 fans, largest crowd of the season in the creaky Forum.

Finney's goals were his 20th, 21st and 22nd of the season. He had 26 in all last season.

Ron Leopold scored twice and Gord Vejprava and Lou Jankowski had one goal each for Calgary. Gerry Brisson was a two-goal man for Spokane while Bev Bell and Larry McNabb fired singles.

Spokane led 3-2 going into the third period.

Edmonton's win was its seventh of the season over the last-place Vancouver club, which was playing one of its better games. Flyer goalie Gilles Boisvert was called upon for 37 saves while Claude Evans of Vancouver made 21 stops.

Bettor Wins $100,000 With Brilliant Coup

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—A $100,000 betting coup was reported at Santa Anita race track Friday as an unidentified patron collected heavily on the $34.20 winner of the second race Justa Drizzle.

The bettor was reported to have purchased $3,000 in win tickets on Justa Drizzle just before post time — good for $51,300.

Additionally, he was said to have bet heavily in the daily double on several combinations to Justa Drizzle.

Reports said he had 15 winning $10 tickets worth $49,635. A Santa Anita pari-mutuel department source verified the coup.

The daily double of Discurragh, a $36.80 winner of the first race, to Justa Drizzle was worth $661.80 for each $2 daily double ticket. The unidentified bettor's $49,635 payoff was about half the total daily double pool after deduction of the customary 14 per cent for the track and state.

Odds on Justa Drizzle dropped sharply just before post time for the second race. The six-year-old daughter of Super Idol was 20 to 1 on the morning line, went up for an instant to 40 to 1, then dropped to 16 to 1 just before the race started.

Justa Drizzle won by three lengths in 1.10 4-5 for six furlongs, with Bill Harmatz in the saddle.

Big Price For Hunch At Tropical

MIAMI (AP) — With severe cold and heavy snows blanketing a large part of the U.S. and Canada, the hunch player had a natural at Tropical race track Friday.

Mister Snow Man won the fifth race and paid a whopping mutuel of $150.90, $51.60 and $20.50 across the board.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Fair Grounds race track cancelled its program Friday because of bad track conditions caused by freezing temperatures. No races have been run at the track since Tuesday.

Tenpin Association in Stride

By JIM TAYLOR

Tenpin bowling seems to have come of age in Victoria.

Eric Harbinson and his new executive had a rocky start at the annual meeting. But they have regrouped, reconsidered, and emerged looking like one of the most solid executive bodies of the Victoria Tenpin Association.

Proof of the improvement lies in the association's first Newsletter, a publication that will come out periodically through the season to keep bowlers informed on the workings of its executive body. It's something that has been badly needed.

TOO LATE

There was considerable argument over the use of last year's averages for the city tournament. The executive reports "it has given this matter lengthy consideration," that it is too late to change it for this year, but for bowlers to be ready to vote on it at the next annual meeting. So the bowlers are going to get a chance to have their say. Chalk up another improvement for the association.

* * *

Annual city zone tenpin championships have been set for March 3-4 and 10-11. Entry fee is $12.00 for the 24 games, split between Gibson's and Aurora Lanes.

SPECIAL EVENT

There will again be a special competition within the event for bowlers with 165-and-under averages.

Profound apologies to W. H. Johnson for giving his 631 tenpin series to someone else in last week's list of scores. For the record it was bowled by W. H. Johnson, not Wilf Johnston.

* * *

The B.C. Bowling Proprietors' Association will hold its annual convention in Qualicum, first time it has ever been held on Vancouver Island.

* * *

Webb bowled 613 (233) on Tuesday, 614 (214, 211) on Wednesday, and 591 (214) on Thursday for a week's average of 202 over nine games.

A choice of station wagons, too...

GENERAL MOTORS ACADIAN

Two fun-size station wagons in a line-up of 8 family-size models

CHECK THESE IMPORTANT ACADIAN WAGON FEATURES

FULL 7 FT. FLAT FLOOR
That's when the second seat is folded flat and the tailgate is closed. With the tailgate open the floor extends to 9 ft. Second seat folds in one simple motion into a long flat continuous cargo area.

GIANT 76.2 CU. FT. CARGO SPACE
That's easily enough room to take almost any family-type cargo you'd be likely to encounter. And note the uncluttered interior design—all this room is usable, not an inch is wasted. Spare tire stores handily along right rear wall.

COUNTER-BALANCED ONE-PIECE TAILGATE
Easily opened with one hand to give access to the flat floor area. It's easy to load up Acadian—the load height's a convenient 21½".
(Power-operated tailgate window is an optional extra.)*

Whitewall tires optional at extra cost

No line of cars is complete without at least one station wagon—and Acadian has TWO! You get all the versatility of a station wagon—plus the practical convenience and economy of all the regular Acadian cars (the 2- and 4-door sedans, the coupe, the convertible).

Acadian's your everyday chore wagon too! It's the station wagon that handles Dad's rush-hour traffic with surprising ease. The Invader is powered with the thrifty 90 hp Econoflame 4- or 120 hp Econoflame 6-cylinder engine. Beaumont available with 6-cylinder engine only. It's the wagon Mom loves to drive for shopping and for collecting the kids from school—especially if she's got Power Steering*, Power Brakes* and Powerglide automatic*. It's the wagon you drive with pride to business dates or parties—just look at the clean, classic lines, the superb styling.

Acadian gives you all this for a realistically low price.

A price that brings it well within the sensible limits of your family budget. Acadian gives you precisely what you want! Try it, drive it—have a load of fun in it!

*Optional at slight extra cost

Invader 6-passenger Station Wagon

BEAUMONT—fully equipped for luxury!
• COLOR-KEYED RUBBER FLOOR COVERING ON CARGO AREA • AUTOMATIC COURTESY DOMELIGHT • 2 COAT HOOKS • LIFT-OUT ASHTRAYS IN INSTRUMENT PANEL AND REAR ARMRESTS • ADJUSTABLE SUN-VISORS
This is the family wagon that's fitted with all the luxury appointments you'd expect in a higher-priced car. Vinyl-coated rubber flooring throughout, with deep-twist carpeting over the tunnel area. Outstanding for dress-up occasions!

INVADER—thrift packed for dependability!
Here's real wagon value—at an exceptionally low price. All-vinyl interior, coupled with rugged rubber flooring makes it easy to keep clean . . . it stands up to the toughest types of use. Undeniably a "best buy."

Garden Notes

Lots of Good Stuff

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Shortly before Christmas I wrote a piece about the importance of planning out the vegetable plot with a view to distributing the manure and compost to the plants which will make the best use of it. It is equally important, in your winter planning sessions to allocate sites to the various kinds of flowers before the digging and manuring is done, as the need for manure varies with the species of flowers to be grown.

Dahlias, chrysanthemums and sweet peas, for instance, need lots of good stuff and thoroughly enriched soil for best results, and for these, heavy dressings of farmyard manure or homemade compost can be dug shallowly into the soil any time the ground is dry enough for comfortable working.

* * *

The annual flowers are different in that they will usually put on their best show when grown in relatively poor soil. Too much high living and heavy feeding makes them go all fat and lazy, putting up lots of lush green foliage without very much in the way of bloom.

This doesn't mean, mind you, that no organic matter is needed in the site for annual flowers—it is still essential for a variety of reasons, including the important function of retaining moisture in the soil during our summer dry spells. For these beds, where the bedding-out annuals will be planted in the spring, it is better to use some form of spongy organic matter with a rather low feeding value, such as peat moss, saving the precious manure for the heavy feeders like the dahlias.

* * *

If you didn't manage to get any bulbs potted up last fall to keep the house gay through the winter months, a prowl through the garden will often turn up a few plants far enough advanced in growth to be brought indoors for early flowering. Primula Wanda and her cousins will often show a few plump buds in January, and the plants can be dug up, potted and brought in to bloom quite happily in a sunny window of a cool lish room.

At our house, one of our favorite tricks is to fill an ornamental china bowl with forest moss, then dig up a few snowdrops or crocuses in bud, just pushing them into the damp moss to make a pretty centrepiece for the table.

* * *

If you have a flowering currant in your garden, you can cut a few branches and place them in a vase of water in a dark cupboard to force them into bloom. When you bring them out, the flowers will be a fairy-like white as a result of the darkness.

Sprays of japonica — Japanese flowering quince — can be forced into bloom in water without the dark treatment and the blossoms will be a softer shade than the harsh brick-red of the outdoors blooms. Sprays of forsythia also are excellent for forcing indoors and their pendant golden bells will often appear within a week.

This trick of forcing the bare branches of shrubs and trees to bloom indoors early in the year is a rather uncertain business. Sometimes it is a huge success, sometimes a dismal failure, but it is well worth trying with any of the Japanese flowering cherries, flowering almond and the ornamental early-flowering plum, to name just a few.

John Crosby — Critic at Large

Ape . . . Man . . . Human Being

"Konrad Lorenz, one of the greatest observers of animal behavior, has said that man is an unusually quarrelsome ape. He has remarked facetiously that man appears to be the missing link between anthropoid apes and human beings," declared Dr. Hudson Hoagland, of the Worcester Foundation of Experimental Biology, president of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and an ardent member of the United World Federalists.

Dr. Hoagland in a very witty, if grim, speech, entitled "To Be or Not to Be, That Is the Question" (marvelous title!), discussed what the biologist has learned about how species die out because of inflexibility in the face of changing environment.

* * *

"We know today that man is an animal, albeit an unusual one. We are one of the many forms of animals that has evolved to our present state from more primitive types by the same processes of natural selection that have produced the myriads of plants and other animal species about us.

"For each species of plant or animal here today thousands of species have perished over the past billion years as a result of failure to adjust to their physical environments, which, of course, include the social environments of other organisms, ranging from bacteria to fierce predators. Those animals that are successful we see about us. The unsuccessful ones are extinct."

Bestial and human behavior are not much different in matters of hostility, Dr. Hoagland observes. "Contrary to popular belief, fighting in bird and mammalian societies is concerned not primarily with courtship and sex but with position and status among the males."

* * *

Are we any different? "A man's particular in-group, be it family, city, religion or nation, is concerned with status, position, property and territorial rights. The heroic attitude — my country right or wrong, and I'd rather be dead than red — is regarded as the only acceptable loyalty. It is admirable to die for one's country.

* * *

"These aggressive aspects of human nature are in direct line with millions of years of animal evolution. Except for size and complexity of nerve cell circuits our brain cells are similar to those of many other mammals in overall anatomical structure and function. Aggressions are mediated by parts of the lower brain that have changed little, if at all, in the past 10,000,000 years.

"Our oversized cerebral cortex — mediating intelligence, reason, ethics and esthetics — our essentially human functions — are all relatively recent biological acquisitions. All too often the cortex is unable to control the aggressions. We have thus continued to fight our fellows over all sorts of issues, of which ideologies are major factors.

"Think of the bloody crusades of the 12th century and the terrible wars of the 16th and 17th centuries between Catholics and Protestants. Communism is today a mystique — a sort of religion, and vast numbers of people adhere to it. Today for the first time in history we have a means of making man another extinct animal along with all the millions of extinct forms that have preceded us. Ladies and gentlemen, to be or not to be is truly the question at this eleventh hour in human affairs.

* * *

"We must control our group aggressions passed down to us over millions of years. People simply must develop loyalties and concern about man as man. Our ability to reason must supplant our primitive drives which were once biologically valuable but are now extremely dangerous and may lead to our extinction."

The only answer, says Dr. Hoagland, is world government with enforceable laws against aggression.

Hollywood Today — By Sheilah Graham

Brando Follows the Son

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Marlon Brando has decided to be a model father. This is why he cancelled his trip around the world which was scheduled to start last week-end. Instead of flying all over the globe and settling for a rest in Tahiti, Brando will remain in California until next fall, at the least — to take advantage of the extra visiting rights with son Christian awarded him recently by a court. He'll be shearing his "Mutiny on the Bounty" topknot, resting for five weeks, and then go ahead with "The Ugly American" on the U-I back lot.

* * *

Jayne Mansfield disclosed that 20th-Fox and Italian producer Alberto Manca are having a legal battle over the title of "Loves of Hercules," and this is holding up its release in this country. "A pity," sighed Jayne. "The movie has made so much money all over Europe. She's the star of the picture, and Mickey Hargitay also has a big role in it.

* * *

Ben Hecht's daughter Jenny is joining the group of ambitious ladies to play the role of Joan of Arc. Jenny portrays Joan in a play, "Simone," and has already started rehearsals in Cleveland. If they like it there Jenny, Joan and Simone will go to Broadway.

* * *

Dirk Bogarde's "Victim," a film of suggestive homosexuality, has been turned down again by the production code. Why they would pass "The Children's Hour" and not "Victim" I can't understand.

* * *

"Black Tights" will get a big sendoff via a glamor premiere in March or April. The opulent dance picture stars Maurice Chevalier, Cyd Charisse, Moira Shearer, Zizi Jeanmaire and Roland Petit. The film combines the artistry of "Red Shoes" and the elegance of "Gigi." And that's good combining.

* * *

We are in for a cycle of circus pictures. There's Metro's "Jumbo," and Al Zugsmith will be making "Carnival," with, he hopes, Jimmy Stewart, playing the business circus. And 20th-Fox has a series for famed clown Emmett Kelly in "It's Wild."

* * *

Yet another picture on Jack Lemmon's schedule: "Good Lord, You're Upside Down." Now, what kind of title is that?

* * *

Fess Parker, happy in marriage and fatherhood (his six-month-old son has both teeth and he can sit up), will soon be seen in his best movie to date, "Hell Is for Heroes," with Steve McQueen, Bob Newhart and Bobby Darin. I suggested to Fess he get prints of his Davy Crockett shows from Walt Disney. His son might like to see them later on.

* * *

Victor Mature never writes to friends unless he is in Europe. I received a card from him in London where he is talking to Warwick Films about making a picture with my favorite actor, Widmark (Richard). The latter became famous overnight in a movie with Vic in which Dick pushed an old lady down the stairs and laughed. Among other surprises for the British, Mature brought over a walkie-talkie and a cowboy hat.

Liberal Pension Plan

Retired Couple Could Earn $440

OTTAWA (CP) — A Liberal party source said Friday the party's supplementary old age pension plan proposal could result in a retired couple receiving $440 a month, but the scale might be trimmed down.

The supplement to the standard universal old age pension of $55 per month, paid now to everyone 70 and over, would be paid out of employer and employee contributions.

The Liberals, in a platform pamphlet published this week, promised to begin paying $20 supplements to the basic pension one year after the plan was written into law — if and when the Liberals are elected.

MAXIMUM SUPPLEMENT

Liberal leader Lester Pearson said the $20 supplement would be increased progressively as pension rights are built up, and the maximum supplement for an individual would be $165.

This would result in a man and wife, both drawing the basic pension and the breadwinner receiving the maximum supplement, having a monthly income of $275.

BOTH GET BENEFITS

The Liberal party source said Friday it was possible that if a man and wife both worked steadily and contributed to the supplementary pensions plan before retiring, they would both be entitled to benefits. Their combined income might then be as high as $440 a month — consisting of two basic pensions of $55, and two maximum supplements of $165.

However, said a Liberal authority on the pension plan, the party might decide to put an upper limit on the combined income of a retired couple at some level below $440.

He Pulled Tree From His Body

WINNIPEG (CP)—A young tractor operator says he pulled a sapling two inches thick from his flesh after he was speared in the stomach during a northern brush-clearing operation.

Murray Mitchel, 22, was clearing brush with a caterpillar vehicle near Bypasumville 170 miles north of here when he impaled himself on the small tree.

It entered his body at one point and came out another. Later from his hospital bed here, he said the wound bled very little after he pulled the sapling out.

DIRT AND STUFF

"There was dirt and stuff from the tree that plugged both holes," he explained.

Mr. Mitchell, a native of Hartney, Man., said he removed the tree while waiting 90 minutes sitting on the tractor for his partner to return with help.

The temperature when the mishap occurred Tuesday night was 15 degrees below zero.

PRETTY SCARED

They were certainly the longest 90 minutes I ever had and I was pretty scared after my buddy left to get help from the camp," Mr. Mitchell said.

He was clearing brush near a lonely bush road when the mishap occurred.

His condition Friday was reported to be fairly good.

Bribe Try—Jail

VANCOUVER (CP)—A man jailed for cheating at bingo was sentenced to another six months for trying to bribe a witness in his case.

The second sentence was imposed Thursday on Clifford Olson, 44, when he pleaded guilty in county court.

He admitted trying to defeat justice last August by trying to bribe a woman not to give evidence against him at his trial in police court on a charge of cheating at bingo.

Olson was originally sentenced to six months.

Indians Want Liquor

STEWART (CP)—Nass River Indians have voted more than 75 per cent in favor of full liquor rights for their bands.

Frank Calder, MLA for Atlin and president of the Nisga tribal council, announced the result of the federal government plebiscite in the villages of Kincolith, Greenville, Canyon City and Aiyansh.

The plebiscite is being held among 17 bands which requested it from Ottawa.

Attorney-General Bonner has said that giving liquor rights to some bands and not to others could cause problems.

Plane Hits Antenna Five Aboard Killed

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Four meat packing company employees—the fathers of 21 children—were killed with their pilot when a plane crashed into a fog shrouded, 450-foot television antenna that had been declared a hazard to aviation.

Victoria Port Business Soars to All-Time High

By IAN STREET

Port business in Victoria last year smashed all previous records.

A total of 375 deepsea ships with gross tonnage of 2,942,723 tons used port facilities, compared with 353 ships in 1960.

34 PER CENT

Lumber shipments from Ogden Point docks in 1961 totalled 174,000,000 board feet, an increase of 34 per cent over the previous year's shipments to foreign ports.

Victoria grain elevator was kept working at full capacity of more than 1,000 bushels a month throughout the year.

SHARP UPSWING

Stanley Arvidson, CNR superintendent at Ogden Point said the key to increased business was a sharp upswing in packaged lumber to the eastern seaboard of the U.S.

JAPAN THIRD

Japan which for several years had taken no lumber from here soared to third place among the big customers in 1961, with a total of 15,600,000 board feet in the last eight months.

There was also an appreciable increase in lumber shipments to European countries.

Several of the countries which purchased more lumber last year are in the European Common Market, but officials here said it was too soon to predict a trend. One official said: "We're hopeful this business will continue to grow."

A drop in lumber shipments to South Africa and to a lesser extent, Australia, was also recorded last year.

Mr. Arvidson said lumber shipments in round figures for 1961 totalled 174,000,000 board feet compared with 128,000,000 the previous year.

BULK CARRIERS

Victoria harbormaster Capt. Ronald Newell said there is a trend towards more bulk carriers calling here to load packaged lumber.

Lumber "packages" averaging about 2,000 board feet are made up in varying sizes and secured by straps for quick, easy loading.

FORKLIFT TRUCKS

In the cargo holds, forklift trucks are used to stack the lumber packages lowered into the ship by cargo slings.

Capt. Newell said before the record-setting 1960 total of 353 ships, the best previous post-war year for port business was 1953, when 344 vessels with a gross tonnage of 2,489,966 called here.

320 AT OGDEN

Last year 320 ships berthed at Ogden Point, the remainder going to grain elevator and other harbor facilities including Esquimalt graving dock.

The grain elevator was kept busy with Victoria's share of the $60,000,000 sale of Canadian wheat to Red China last February.

Lumber Loads Boom

Lumber shipments from Ogden Point last year soared to a new record of 174,000,000 board feet, an increase of 34 per cent over the previous year. The U.S. Atlantic coast market reached its highest level, most others showed increase.—(Colonist photo.)

'Angel' Needed

* * * * * *

Island Wreck Costly to Salvage

Cost of recovering the financially-worthless hulk of a rotting sailing ship from the west coast of Vancouver Island would probably be too high to justify the operation, a salvage expert said yesterday.

The salvage official said a historically-minded benefactor would have to be found if the century-old wreck is to be raised, and it is not known whether any "angels" of this kind are available here.

He was commenting on the opinion of a veteran naval diver that the wreck at Sydney Inlet 125 miles from Victoria—which has maritime historians puzzled about its identity—could be hoisted from the water and returned by barge to Victoria.

B.C. Maritime Museum officials showed keen interest in the possibility they could acquire the three-masted vessel for an outdoor shipwreck display.

THREW SUPPORT

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, chairman of the centennial committee, yesterday threw his support behind the idea.

"Anything of that nature would be of great interest to visitors to Victoria," he said.

Having a ship more than 100 years old brought up during the city's centennial year would be good publicity, said the chairman.

PERHAPS NAVY

The city could not finance such an undertaking. Perhaps the navy could do the job with one of its ships, and divers who are practising all the time anyway, suggested Ald. Edgelow.

A navy spokesmen agreed with the salvage company official that it would cost a lot of money to tow a seaworthy barge up the coast, keep it there for a week and then tow it back to Victoria.

FURTHER STUDY

But if any responsible group here showed an interest and wrote asking for naval co-operation in raising the mystery ship, "we would be prepared to give the matter further study with a view to seeing whether it is economically feasible," said the spokesman.

Curator John Symons has said he would like to have the wreck for the maritime museum. Lt.-Cmdr. Ken Ackerman, in charge of the navy's operational diving unit, has said the vessel could be raised from its watery grave.

First Day On Job—And Hurt

The first day on a new job was a tough one for a 30-year-old carpenter who suffered chest injuries yesterday when he fell from a ladder onto a lumber pile.

Taken to St. Joseph's Hospital from the Fowler & Sons school construction job on Wesley Road was James McLeod, 3776 Duke.

He had just reported for work on the new job and was climbing the building frame work when the accident occurred.

Mixed Success Downtown

Dime Meters Pass Test But Stingy on Revenue

By TED SHACKLEFORD

Ten-cent-an-hour parking in the downtown area of Victoria has proved a success after five full months of operation.

But only a moderate success.

The 10-cent charge went into operation July 25 last year with two main aims announced by city council:

- To raise revenue to form a fund to provide off-street parking facilities.
- To stop all-day parking and meter feeding by people employed downtown—making more parking spaces available for shoppers.

Most successful of the aims was getting rid of the city's office-dwelling meter-feeders.

Least successful was the amount gained to start the fund to provide off-street parking—some $3,000.

SMALL INCREASE

With more than two-thirds of the city's parking meters now operating on a 10-cent rate, revenue for the five months, August-December, 1961, was only $84,474.85 compared with $61,612.54 in 1960, an increase of some 37 per cent.

The total for 1961 was $166,142, but from this amount council takes one mill for general revenue—$94,000 on last year's figures—and some $66,942 to cover maintenance, coin collection and counting, commissionaire patrols and other costs.

"It is apparent that the all-day parkers have found parking places in off-street facilities or on streets out of the downtown core," Ald. Michael Griffin, chairman of city parking committee, commented last night.

SPACE AVAILABLE

"I hope that the knowledge becomes general that we do, in fact, have spare meter spaces available in the downtown area and that those wishing to come to town to shop will be able to find space to park."

The small increase in revenue in the five months the higher-cost meters have been operating was caused by three major factors, Ald. Griffin said.

"Partly the exodus of all-day parkers reduced revenue, partly the novelty of outside shopping areas and partly the increased use of off-street garages at Eaton's and the Bay."

BCE Unions Seek Parley

Representatives of trade unions who fear loss of bargaining rights because of the B.C. Electric takeover are seeking a meeting with Premier Bennett.

Meanwhile, Opposition leader Robert Strachan called for changes in the Labor Relations Act to allow unions to bargain with government agencies. "They have no rights any more," he said.

Said Liberal leader Ray Perrault: "There is no reason why Crown agencies should not enjoy full bargaining rights."

Aldermen Initiate New Setup

Initial meeting of the Group B committees of city council was held yesterday morning to discuss appointment of chairmen and division of activities.

The chairmen recommended by Mayor R. B. Wilson in his inaugural address last week were confirmed by members of the committees.

Group B contains such committees as parks, town planning, city beautification, zoning, public works, streets, parking, urban renewal, harbor and waterworks.

Wilson Speaks To Gyro Club

Mayor R. B. Wilson, a long-time member of Victoria Gyro Club, will address members at the club's regular luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel Monday.

Here Monday

Dues Law Going To Appeal Court

A clause in the Labor Relations Act relating to checkoff dues and political purposes will be challenged in the Court of Appeal here Monday.

The clause requires union officials to sign statutory declarations that dues collected by checkoff will not be used for political purposes.

The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' Union will ask the court to declare that its contract with Imperial Oil Ltd. is binding and should be honored despite the new law which was passed at the last session of the legislature.

Family Facing Hungry Month

A family of five is facing the grim prospect of going without food for a month unless $40 lost on Gorge Vale Golf Course Thursday is recovered.

The money represents the balance of a $61 welfare cheque cashed on Thursday and is the family's total income for this month.

"I don't know what we'll do," said Mrs. Lavina Charles. "It's all the money we had."

LOOSE IN POCKET

She said she had the money loose in her pocket when leaving the bus stop at Forshaw and Craigflower, and believes she lost it while walking along a path across Gorge Vale Golf Club to the Songhees Indian Reserve.

She said the money was made up of a $20 bill and $1 and $2 bills.

"I paid the family bills," she said, "but the balance of the money was to be used to feed us for the rest of the month."

Her husband Burt Charles is a truck driver who has been out of work for five months. They have three children two, three and four years old.

Anyone finding any of the money is asked to call the home of Mrs. Charles' uncle, Thomas Charles, at GR 8-4559.

15 Appeal Against Increases

Only 15 persons have so far appealed against increased assessments of city property.

"But we expect quite a flock of them to come in next week, before the deadline for appeals at 5 p.m. Wednesday," a spokesman said.

At least 100 property owners protested against increased assessments following adoption of a new assessment equalization formula adopted by the provincial government, but most were satisfied with verbal explanations.

42 APPEALS

Last year's court of revision for assessments heard 42 appeals.

The court will sit at city hall Feb. 5. Members of the court will be former mayor Percy Scurrah, Coun. Joseph Casey of Saanich and city lawyer Kenneth Murphy.

AT CITY HALL

A court of revision for local improvements will sit at city hall at 10 a.m. Monday to hear appeals against local improvements by city ratepayers.

Members of the court will be Ald. Arthur Dowell, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, Ald. Michael Griffin, Ald. A. W. Toone and Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean.

Double-Deckers

London Buses Here?

Visitors may get a chance to ride a red, double-decked London bus here this summer.

Tentative arrangements have been made and orders placed for three of the buses to be brought here for sightseeing purposes, a spokesman for the local firm planning the unique venture said last night.

18-MILE ROUTE

It is planned to run the buses on an 18-mile route, mostly along the waterfront, including Dallas Road and Beach Drive to Cadboro Bay, he said.

A representative of the firm recently returned from England where negotiations were conducted for the buses.

One structural conversion will have to be made on each bus. Entrance and steps leading upstairs will have to be removed from the left-hand side and rebuilt on the right-hand side.

This is necessary because English vehicles travel on the left-hand side of the road, and in Victoria the passengers would have to go out into the middle of the street to board the bus unless the change is made.

City Boys' Club Needs Volunteer Instructors

A dozen men and women volunteer instructors are needed by the Boys' Club of Victoria to help teach crafts and supervise games.

Boys' club executive director Ron Havard said the volunteer helpers would be asked to serve for a two-hour period once a week. "They don't have to have previous experience. If they're interested, we'll train them," he said.

During the first 12 days of January, 275 boys, mostly between eight and 14 years of age, have re-registered at the club in the old Yates Street firehall. Membership was 760 at the end of 1961.

Volunteer helpers are asked to telephone Mr. Havard at EV 3-2041.

Narrow Call For Two In Car Flip

Two persons narrowly escaped last night when their sports car went out of control, careened through a barbed-wire fence and landed upside down off Metchosin Road near Victoria Gun Club.

Langford fire department ambulance attendants Allan Lequesne and Vern Edwards both said it was "a miracle" both the men were not killed.

John Stornschuk, believed to be driver of the convertible, suffered a leg gash and passenger William Jones a broken leg. Both men are stationed at the Albert Head army post.

Attendant Edwards said Jones was thrown at least 30 feet from where the car had stopped.

Both men were in fair condition in St. Joseph's Hospital.

No Snowfall Expected For Today

Chances of snow falling in the Greater Victoria area today are slim, but conditions will be wintry, with a high of 42 and low of 32 predicted, accompanied by cloudy skies.

Weather officer William Mackie said there is a possibility of rain or rain mixed with snow early Sunday morning.

Detention Designs Go Ahead

City staff is preparing designs for the proposed new juvenile detention home, Mayor R. B. Wilson said yesterday.

The plans will be used as a basis for estimates of costs of construction for the information of the Greater Victoria intermunicipal committee.

Once costs are known the committee will decide whether to go ahead with construction.

A site has been chosen on Pembroke Street, behind Spencerhouse.

Bottles Wanted

Cubs and Scouts from St. Louis College will hold a bottle drive today from 10 a.m. to noon. They will tour residential areas of Victoria.

Don't-Do-It-Yourself New California Trend

* * *

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

THIS MODERN AGE: Still slightly incredulous after a brief visit to Southern California, Don Bacon passes along the following piece of incidental intelligence.

He was amazed to find that:

- Some "sports" fishermen in the San Diego region connect up a battery-operated device to their reels. When a fish strikes the fisherman merely clicks on a switch and lo! the fish is reeled in automatically.
- Welfare agencies in California will now make the payments on television sets for those people on relief. It seems television has become a necessity of life.
- Some California youngsters were given copies of that age-old book "Goldilocks and the Three Bears." But a new twist has been added to aid tired parents.

There's a crank on the side of the book and all you have to do is place the kid on your knee and turn the crank slowly. A "magic voice" reads the story. Very helpful it is, too. Every so often the "voice" says:

"Turn the page now."

* * *

LANGUAGE BARRIER: Last time Premier Bennett journeyed to Vancouver on one of the government ferries he listened in amazement as he heard employee after employee speaking in Old Country accents.

Finally it became too much. The premier turned to assistant manager Ronald Worley, himself English-born, and drily asked:

"How many more of your cousins have you given jobs to?"

Mr. Worley says the tourists love the English accents.

REDUCED TO CLEAR: Suggestion comes from Larry Kerridge that the soon-to-be-vacated Connaught Seamen's Institute at 196 Superior would make a dandy permanent home for the B.C. Maritime Museum . . . With all this fuss over trading stamps it's interesting to recall the testimony of one witness who appeared before the B.C. legislative committee probing the subject in 1960. When a store manager reduced the price of his groceries he was assailed by angry housewives who complained they wouldn't get as many stamps as before! . . . Works Minister W. N. Chant is already worried about keeping the new Victoria law courts building nice and clean. He's called for tenders for janitorial services in the building.

* * *

THE READERS WRITE: We like getting letters but we never seem to acknowledge many of them. So . . .

J.J.R., Sidney: I'm not afraid to speak out now and then, but I'm too scared to publish the list of things you'd like to know in 1962. Wow! . . . A.J., Victoria: I'm sure B.C. civil servants agree with you that they're underpaid . . . E.D.McK., Oak Bay: I was just born nasty, I guess! . . . P.L., Victoria: See above! . . . K.M.W., Victoria: The man who wrote that telegram has an odd sense of humor. It was by design, not accident . . . G.R.F., Oak Bay: Yes ma'am, but I've heard all I want to hear about blooming sweet peas! . . . F.W.D.W., Victoria: Thought your piece uproarious but then I'm a little odd. Sorry, couldn't use it . . . R.C., Saanich: And the same to you, sir! Doubled if possible!

Drive 'Doing Nicely'

A drive to raise $280,000 in a "design for the future" campaign by Vancouver Island Anglicans has reached the two-thirds mark and is "going nicely," a campaign spokesman said last night.

A total of $165,000 has been raised so far toward Greater Victoria's target total of $220,000 with pledges coming in steadily. The campaign official was sure the financial target would be reached by deadline date Feb. 28.

Funds will be distributed to newer areas of Vancouver Island with about $100,000 being spent on rectories and mission halls from Port Hardy to Jordan River and Tofino.

Balance of the money will be made available to parishes as loans for building programs and in support of the Anglican Theological College in Vancouver and of Christ Church Cathedral building fund in Victoria.

Aim of the plan is to extend the church particularly for the benefit of young people.

Fluoridation Plebiscite Likely for Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan Toronto Chairman William Allen said yesterday a plebiscite on fluoridation will likely be held during the 1962 municipal elections in December.

"We have not ordered the plebiscite as yet," he said.

Seven petitions are required from the 13 metro suburbs before council can authorize a vote.

"We have received seven petitions, six of which have been duly certified," Mr. Allen said.

Buddhists Bilked

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Buddhist priests were warned Thursday they were handling counterfeit money produced by the rebel "government" in northern Laos. The money was donated to temples by bodyguards at a meeting of Laos' three rival princes.

Luthuli Pledges Fairness

TORONTO (CP)—If Nobel peace prize winner Albert John Luthuli ever becomes prime minister of South Africa, he says he would fight to maintain the rights of white men, just as he has devoted his life to the rights of non-whites.

Such expressions as "all black government," he says, "I do not cherish."

Writing in the current issue of Saturday Night, the 62-year-old former Zulu chief calls for radical governmental reform in South Africa. But, he insists, the emergency of the black must not be countered with the oppression of the white.

"If the electorate puts in a one-color government, that should be accidental and not purposeful."

Church Notes

Adventist Gift: $55,316

Victoria's Seventh-Day Adventist church, with a membership of about 200, received $55,316 in offerings during 1961, according to a report submitted this week by the church treasurer.

In addition, said Pastor Arthur Spenst, members made a good-sized contribution of their time for local welfare work and special church programs.

Members of the Adventist church here support a church school, with 15 enrolled this year, to provide Bible training for young people.

Centennial United Becomes 75 With Building Rite, Pageant

Dedication of the new Howard Harris building will be a feature of the week-long 75th anniversary celebrations of Centennial United Church.

The new structure, adjoining the church on Gorge Road, will be dedicated Sunday at 3 p.m. by Rev. A. L. Anderson of Vancouver, president of the B.C. Conference of the United Church, assisted by Rev. Alec Calder, chairman of the Victoria Presbytery, and Howard Johnstone, former assistant minister at Centennial Church.

When the building is opened to the public W. H. Hamilton, the builder, will present the keys to Rev. Dr. S. J. Parsons.

Other events marking the anniversary will include a pageant, "The Altar and the Fireside," directed by Mrs. D. Beresford at 7 p.m. Wednesday, and a dinner served by women of the church Friday from 5.30 to 7 p.m., both in the hall, and special services in the church Jan. 21.

Preacher at both services that day, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m., will be Rev. Douglas B. Carr, now of Calgary and a former minister at Centennial Church.

At 3 p.m. Saturday there will be a special children's program in the new hall.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

Gambling is socially, morally, and economically demoralizing. Gambling grips and destroys a personality like alcoholism. The brilliant Dostoevski was almost ruined by it.

Rowntree and Lavers in the sociological study "English Life and Leisure," point out the devastating effect on British morals and economy through gambling—money diverted from productive use, wastage of manpower, drain on the resources of the general post office, the enormous paper wastage involved in vast special sporting press, tickets and programs, and the cruel damage to personal and family life. Hobson in "The Ethics of Gambling" contends that it is a rejection of the intellectual order on which civilization is based and a return to the primitive animal state of emotional anarchy.

Gambling is wrong because it issues from a bad state of mind, is based on a bad principle and has bad consequences. It is part of the evil of stealing, trying to get something for nothing. Instead of expecting to advance by hard work, the gambler trusts to luck.

Gambling Is No Risk

Gambling is not the same thing as taking a risk. Risk involves the investment of life in creative effort. Gambling is trying to get something that belongs to someone else without giving a fair return. Gambling breaks the tenth commandment.

The most gigantic financial swindle in British history took place in 1720 in the gambling mania of "the South Sea Bubble." A shady scheme was cooked up by which the South Sea Company would relieve the government of heavy public debt in return for slave trading concessions and vague developments in North and South America by which the gold of the new world would be brought to Britain. The poor deluded public mortgaged and borrowed to the hilt to buy the shares and in the ensuing crash the unhappy creatures were engulfed in a sea of bankruptcy and misery.

The same John Law who was active in the South Sea Bubble also promoted the "Mississippi Speculations" in France. So enormous was the excitement that cavalry had to break up the crowds wanting to buy stock which shot up over 2000 per cent. The crash rivaled that of Britain.

In 1635 Holland went mad with speculation in tulips. Estates worth hundreds of thousands of dollars were sold in order to speculate on rare tulips, the prices of which jumped around astonishingly. The Amsterdam Tulip—"the only one of its kind in the world"—sold for over two million dollars!

Gambling is a mark always of a corrupt society and of a disintegrating personality.

Best Dressed Man Has 50 Suits, 7 Capes

LONDON (UPI) — If Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, Princess Alexandra, Queen Sirikit of Thailand and other ladies on the current list of the world's best-dressed women will pardon the interruption, we will pay tribute today to the world's best-dressed man.

His name is Dr. Roland Bramley. As they say in Hollywood, his vital statistics are 41-42-41 on a five-foot-five-inch frame. His current wardrobe set him back about $77,000.

Until recently, Bramley was physician-at-large to the court of St. James (that means he was doctor for foreign diplomats). But he was the victim of an inner conflict. As much as he loved medicine and respected the hippocratic oath, he wanted to be the world's champion dresser.

One day he diagnosed himself and prescribed retirement from the medical profession. Money was no problem, and he immediately set to work assembling the following wardrobe: 50 suits, 27 pairs of hand-made shoes, 200 neckties, 300 diamond tie pins, six umbrellas, seven opera capes, 15 hats, including seven silk toppers, and a collection of shirts and socks which he has never bothered to count.

Then, he sat back and waited for the world to place the laurel wreath upon his head. Despite frequent appearances in public places wearing raiment that shamed lilies of the field, nothing happened. So the doctor took direct action. He nominated himself for the title of the world's best-dressed man, held an election and won. The vote was unanimous. Then he issued this statement and challenge: "I probably am the world's best-dressed man."

This bold move stowed the opposition and no challenger appeared. Today the doctor is firmly on the throne. Would he reveal some trade secrets for the remainder of the world's male population? He would.—He goes, of course, to a "bespoke tailor"—that's a fancy name for British tailors who demand six weeks to make a suit and reserve the right to charge what they think the traffic will bear. He has a minimum of eight fittings.

The weather largely determines when the doctor goes to his tailor. "When it's a nice day and I haven't anything better to do, I stroll around to my tailor and order a half-dozen suits," he said.

—The world's best-dressed man cannot afford to be too conventional. His clothing must have some distinctive character to set him apart from the herd. Right at the start of his career, our man decided he would not have any buttons on his coats. The coats would be draped so well that they always would stay in place. "Another reason," said the doctor, "is that the buttons might get in the way of my monocle. It's an 18th century piece attached to my waistcoat and I use it for reading."

Then came the big question: would the doctor reveal the name of his tailor? "No," he said firmly. "Publicity might spoil him."

Gigiola Montanarini, creator of the popular "space line," and daughter of famous designer Zoe Fontana, is shown in her Daughters of Christ habit in Sardinia, where she became a novice, Jan. 8. She is 24.

Madcap Cassini Stuns Customers

NEW YORK (AP) — While a piano tinkled the rhythm and 200 fashion writers beat time with their hands, Oleg Cassini gave a spirited exhibition of the twist.

The impromptu dance came a short time after the designer started showing his spring collection Tuesday in the second day of the New York couture group's press week.

He early settled to everyone's satisfaction that he was returning to his first love. The curvy, figure-hugging fashions that had been his trademark. His year's flirtation with the easy-fitting, over-blouse styles was ended.

Then he suddenly waved a model from the stage, and leaped into an energetic, yet somehow elegant, rendition of the twist.

TWISTS AGAIN

Later he twisted again, this time with a model wearing his most madcap invention—a red crepe sheath covered from shoulder to hem with free-swinging strips of fabric.

"The twist is basically a reaction," he said. "The mood will spread into fashion. Next season I'll make twisty dresses."

Cassini's performance overshadowed the earlier collections of Luis Estevez and Arthur Jablow.

Estevez earned some gasps with necklines slashed to the waist. His chief silhouette fitted in front, with brooch or bow placement suggesting a high waistline. Often the back of what looked like an over-blouse swung free, making one-piece dresses look two-piece.

Jablow's David Kidd produced well-mannered suits with matching or contrasting silk blouses. Jackets ranged from waist length to long line. Melon was a bold, often-used color, navy recurred frequently, both in suits and in a series of little-girl coats.

League Names President

At the annual election of the officers of the League of Roses (Lancs and Yorks) Mrs. W. Harry Inman was named president with Mrs. Gladys Baker and Mrs. Lillian Duffill as vice-presidents.

Past president is Mr. Reginald Clarke. Treasurer is Mr. James Kelly, and secretary is Mrs. Eva Aspinwall. Executive include Mr. William Fairhead, Mrs. Celia Fairhead, Mrs. Lily Ashworth, Mrs. Florence Purcell and Mrs. May Rodgers.

A dramatic dress that shows the trend this season is this lace-edged, pleated and tiered black silk organdy from Ceil Chapman's spring 162 collection. A little cape covers the strapless dress with its sash in black satin.

Mrs. T. R. Shepherd Centennial President

Inaugural meeting of the United Church Women of Centennial United was held recently when Mrs. T. R. Shepherd was named president. Vice-presidents are Mrs. R. J. Garner and Mrs. F. Wilmshurst.

Honorary presidents are Mrs. S. J. Parsons, Mrs. F. Hoffman and Mrs. J. M. Hopkins. Secretaries are Mrs. G. Wilson and Mrs. R. H. Thompson. Treasurer is Mrs. T. Haynes.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. D. E. Bennett, Mrs. J. McKenzie, Mrs. Lois McGill, Mrs. R. Philps, Mrs. E. Lumley, Mrs. G. H. Dean, Mrs. R. J. Garner, Mrs. George Kraft, Mrs. J. H. Sneddon, Mrs. F. W. Decker, Mrs. W. S. Buchanan, Mrs. B. A. Barr, Mrs. R. H. Smith and Mrs. A. Tracy.

It was stated monthly meetings will be held in the Howard Harris building the second Wednesday of every month to be held in the afternoon and evening alternately until June. Next meeting will be held Feb. 14 at 2 p.m.

Following unit leaders were named: Mrs. E. deBow, Mrs. J. Dunlop, Mrs. A. Bond, Mrs. B. Barr, Mrs. J. Sneddon, Mrs. A. Wisznlewski, Mrs. L. D. Gilliland and Mrs. J. W. Latham.

Personal Mention

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George R. Pearkes will give a dinner at Government House on Sunday evening, Jan. 21, in honor of His Excellency the Rt. Hon. Viscount Amory, United Kingdom High Commissioner, who will arrive in Victoria that day and will be a guest of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes in Government House.

On Thursday, Jan. 18, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Pearkes will give a dinner at Government House in honor of Mr. Percy B. Scurrah, former mayor of Victoria, and Mrs. Scurrah.

Tuesday, Jan. 16, His Honor and Mrs. Pearkes will cross to Vancouver where they will attend the launching of the motor vessel "City of Vancouver" at Burrard Dry Dock, North Vancouver.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a freshman at a very tough school. The head of our journalism department thinks you are pretty good. This gave me an idea.

I have to turn in a paper for a humanities course. It can deal with any phase of human problems. Since this is right up your alley it occurred to me that you could be a great help. (After all, you say you're interested in helping people.)

The material you have right at your fingertips is terrific because it comes directly from the people with the problems. This beats anything I could find in the library.

Be a pal and jot down about 1,500 words on the problems most people write about. It doesn't have to be in finished form. I will work it over and add some of my own thoughts. Thanks a lot. — WITHHOLD NAME

Dear Withhold: Your offer was the best one of the day. All I have to do is jot down 1,500 words and it doesn't even have to be a finished essay — just a few random thoughts which you will "work over." Lucky me.

Look, Buster, I wrote my own essays and term papers when I was in college and you can write yours. Haul your freight over to the library and get to work.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: My widowed sister came to me for advice because I am her oldest brother. Her 19-year-old son wants to get married. He flunked everything last year and had to change schools. The girl he wants to marry is 17 and she acts like 12.

The boy wants his mother to loan him $2,000 to get married on and then give him $600 a month. He agreed to pay her back in 1970, when he comes into his share of his father's estate.

The boy has sold her on the idea that all he wants is an advance on what legally belongs to him. He says he's not asking for her money, he just wants his — a few years sooner.

She's a nervous person and the pressure is getting too much for her. What do you say? — BROTHER

Dear Brother: I say No. When the boy's father set up his will he knew what he was doing.

If this mother agrees to the boy's preposterous plan she will expedite what probably will be a disastrous marriage.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS
—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, January 11th—How much is that fur coat in the window? Seasonal reductions are now in full swing, so now's the time to get your coat out of the furrier's window and onto your back. You can finance the coat of your choice right now under the BANK OF MONTREAL Family Finance Plan. To borrow under this low-cost, life-insured plan, all you need is the ability to repay—and payments can be spread over two, or even three, years. Whether it's a new fur coat or something else you need, chances are you can get it with a B of M Family Finance Plan loan. Why not drop into your neighbourhood branch of "My Bank" soon?

DO YOU SPEND THE DAY cooking, cleaning, and shopping? Well, I've found the most pleasant remedy for "four o'clock fatigue". You'll actually feel the tensions of the day disappear in a warm bath, delightfully scented and conditioned with CALGON BOUQUET. You'll call it "Heavenly". Your bath water feels wonderfully "silky"; your ordinary bath soap lathers luxuriously, rinses away cleanly. Nothing relaxes me like a Calgon Bouquet bath, and, furthermore, it leaves no "bathtub ring". If you keep half as busy as I, you owe yourself the inexpensive luxury of a daily Calgon Bouquet bath. P.S.—and it doesn't need to be at four o'clock!

IN THE KITCHEN, IN THE BATHROOM, in the laundry . . . save extra steps by keeping a bar of SUNLIGHT SOAP always handy in each of these rooms. You can afford to! . . . Sunlight, the complete cleaning bar, costs less than any other bar soap or cleaner . . . and does so many jobs so well. It's perfect for extra soiled collars and cuffs—they come beautifully clean when rubbed with Sunlight before dunking in the washing machine — mild on the hands and gentle to fabrics, yet does a good hard-working job. That's because Sunlight Soap is all soap—guaranteed pure and unadulterated. Ask for it in the handy, twin-bar pack . . . I know you'll agree it's the most economical cleaner in the house!

DON'T GIVE UP that New Year's Resolution about dieting! Low calorie foods can be delicious, as you'll discover once you've tasted LIBBY'S SAUERKRAUT. Yes, it's a deliciously different vegetable whether you serve it hot with meat or cold in salads and sandwiches. So nutritious—and, believe it or not, only 25 calories in an average serving. Try it! . . . taste it! . . . always succulent, crisp and mellow. Libby's Sauerkraut is full of Vitamin-C and other essential food properties. You need never feel guilty about second helpings of Libby's Sauerkraut. It's so low in calories, so low in cost and so high in vitamin content!

AN ALL-CANADIAN FAVOURITE . . . and no wonder! I'm sure your family will agree with mine . . . RED RIVER CEREAL has everything! It's as delicious as it's nourishing, with a delightful nut-like flavour. And just between us, mother, active youngsters and oldsters alike need the extra energy values provided by Red River Cereal. And they love its wholesome blend of cracked wheat, rye and flax. Red River is so easy to prepare . . . cooks in just a few minutes. It's no wonder that the fame of Red River Cereal is spreading around new thousands of happy Canadian breakfast tables every morning of the year!

NEW LOW COST PLAN FOR FUNERAL EXPENSES WINS WIDE ACCEPTANCE

- GOLD CREST FUNERAL PLAN NOW GUARANTEES $300 TO $3,000 WITH FIRST SMALL PAYMENT

The popular plan to protect survivors in every family from the inevitable costs of final illness and funeral expenses has been receiving almost universal acceptance as the very sensible way to provide for these obligations which are the responsibility of every person.

- AVAILABLE TO 90 YEARS OF AGE, GOOD ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD

Important feature of the plan is that when first payment is made the full amount of the plan is provided immediately on funeral day and cannot be taken away by financial reverses or debts. It is good anywhere in the world with any funeral director. The plan is underwritten by the Seaboard Life Insurance Company and has the approval of leading funeral directors.

- EVERY FAMILY URGED TO GET FULL DETAILS WITHOUT DELAY

Because it is so unfair and unwise to leave funeral expenses (which every person faces) to loved ones, truly considerate people realize the right time is right NOW. Tomorrow may be too late. Full details are offered by mailing the coupon today.

TV TALK

By JIM TAYLOR

So why did they bother with a new Groucho Marx show? They might just as well have re-issued the old show. It's almost identical.

"Time to watch 'Follow the Sun'."

Groucho sits there and insults a group of contestants who bring what are rather mistakenly referred to as "fun problems" for him. Then they play a picture game for $1,000 and leave.

It comes out as funny as a kick in the [illegible].

Groucho's guests are supposedly screened before they appear, but they are all the same. None of them on the first show would recognize a funny line if they were hanging by it. So when Groucho told the lady who brought the 13 cats he hoped for her sake she lived on a beach, she came back with:

"Oh no, Groucho, we live in Hollywood Hills."

What they should do is line up the contestants, give them their money and send them home. Preferably before the show goes on the air.

Saturday's Highlights

1.00 p.m.—Another repeat of the March of Dimes "Snow Shakers" show, with the Lamplighters, Ed Wynn, Buster Keaton, Jimmy Durante and others—12.

2.00—Debut of a new puppet show "Captain Cosmic" with a space theme. Reportedly quite good for the kiddies—11.

8.30—Golden Showcase presents Tammy Grimes and Jackie Cooper in two-character play. Tom Ewell is narrator—7 and 11.

11.30—On a program—rather aptly called "Open End," the art of stripteasing is discussed for two hours—5.

Saturday's Sports

12.00—National Basketball League, Cincinnati Royals vs. Detroit Pistons—5.

1.00 p.m.—Fivepin bowling from Toronto—2 and 6.

2.00—Cross-Canada Curling—2 and 6.

3.00—World of Golf series featuring Vancouver's Stan Leonard and Jack Burke Jr., at the Banff Springs course—2 and 6.

4.15—Horse racing from Santa Anita—7, 11 and 12.

4.30—Semi-finals and final of the Puerto Rico bowling tournament—4.

5.00—All-Star Golf—5.

6.00—National Hockey League, Detroit Red Wings vs. Toronto Maple Leafs—2 and 6.

7.00—Live coverage of finals of the 21st annual ABC All-Star bowling tournament from Miami Beach—4.

8.00—College basketball, University of Washington vs. University of Southern California—5.

Other regular bowling shows are on channel 7 at 5; and channel 11 at 6.

Wrestling on channel 6 at 4 p.m. and channel 8 at midnight.

Saturday's Movies

10.00 a.m.—Heir to Trouble (western)—4.

11.00—Spring Reunion (fair 1957 drama), Betty Hutton—6.

2.00—Affair with a Stranger (1953 drama), Jean Simmons—12.

2.30—Big Guy (1939 drama), Victor McLaglen—4.

2.30—See Here, Private Hargrove (1944 comedy), Robert Walker—5.

2.30—Henry Aldrich's Secret (1944 comedy), Jimmy Lydon—7.

9.00—Androcles and the Lion (1952 comedy), Victor Mature—6.

★9.30—People will Talk (1951 comedy), Cary Grant—5.

10.00—Devil's Cargo (1948 drama), John Calvert—11.

11.00—Lone Star (1952 western), Clark Gable—4.

★11.00—To Each His Own (1946 drama), Olivia De Havilland—7.

11.00—The Man with Nine Lives (1940 horror), Boris Karloff—11.

11.00—They Drive by Night (1940 drama), Humphrey Bogart—12.

11.10—[illegible] (Italian 1952 comedy)—2.

11.30—[illegible] (1952 western), Rod Cameron—6.

DOLS':
Impregnated FLANNEL
For:
RHEUMATISM & KINDRED AILMENTS
BRONCHITIS, CHEST & THROAT TROUBLES
CHILBLAINS & COLD FEET
The makers have received many spontaneous letters written by people who had suffered continuous pain for years, and who—prior to using Dols' Flannel—had expended large sums of money and much time on so-called cures and remedies without relief. These and other long-standing complaints have been greatly relieved, many being wearers of Dols' Flannel describe the properties of this fabric as simply marvellous.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

Most bridge columns discuss only triumphs for the players identified, but we believe there's as much or more to be learned from disasters. Some Saturday or Sunday afternoon as you watch Charles Goren's TV show, "Championship Bridge," you'll see Mr. and Mrs. Charles Solomon outgeneral Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schenken on this deal. One change in the program, the third year of which began on many stations all over the country last weekend, is that the commentator doesn't try to explain away what he considers boobooes. So on this one, we'll try to beat him to the punch.

Vul: None	(Charles Solomon) NORTH ♠ 10 7 6 3 ♥ 7 4 3 2 ♦ Q 10 5 4 ♣ 7
(Howard Schenken) WEST ♠ A J 9 4 ♥ 10 5 ♦ 9 2 ♣ A K J 9 4	(Mrs. Schenken) EAST ♠ K Q 8 5 2 ♥ A Q ♦ 7 3 ♣ Q 8 6 5
	(Mrs. Solomon) SOUTH ♠ — ♥ K J 9 8 6 ♦ A K J 8 6 ♣ 10 3 2

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Dbl.
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	4 N.T.
Dbl.	Pass	Pass	Redbl.
Pass	5 ♥	Dbl.	All pass

Opening lead: ♠ K

The format of the Goren show demands that, to win, you must be ahead at the end of a half hour's play, so there's a certain urgency about getting a plus score on every possible hand. However, this isn't so different from usual rubber bridge tactics. The payoff comes at the end of the session and it helps you to come out ahead if you have avoided a big swing against your side, even if it means absorbing a small loss in order to do so.

Freak hands always require this kind of treatment, and Mrs. Solomon's bidding of the South cards made it plain that she had considerable distributional power, even though she never cue-bid the spades. Her double was for a takeout; her four no-trump bid was a further request for a takeout; her redouble was an absolute demand that partner act. Under these circumstances, the position of East's heart ace-queen must be discounted, and it would appear safer to bid five spades even though there's no guarantee that contract will make.

Actually, five spades is on because, after drawing trumps, East can discard a heart on West's long club. Five hearts was also a make, however. Solomon ruffed the spade opening in dummy, crossed to the diamond queen and led trumps. East rose with the ace and the defence tried to cash two club tricks. But North ruffed the second, and on the next trump lead, when East's queen dropped helplessly under the king, declarer claimed the rest of the tricks. Making five hearts doubled was worth 650 to North-South, making five spades, even undoubled, would have brought 450 to East-West. Even if East had to go down 100 at five spades, however, the sacrifice would have been worth while.

Pop It On!

by Marian Martin

Four main pattern pieces—the simplest of sewing! Pop this cowl-neck style over your head — presto! you're dressed for breakfast or all day. It's fun to wear free-flowing or belted.

Printed Pattern 9249: Misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16 takes 3½ yards 45-inch fabric.

Send fifty cents (50c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Please print plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send your order to Marian Martin, care of The Daily Colonist Pattern Dept., 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont.

You're invited to a fall-winter fashion spectacular — see 100 styles to sew in our new pattern catalogue. No matter what size, you'll find it! 35c.

Bulky-Knit Jacket

857
by Laura Wheeler

Casual jumbo-knit jacket you'll wear and wear and love! Cables add smart texture accent.

Fashion's popular bulky-knit jacket! Inches fly—use large needles, two strands knitting worsted. Pattern 857: direction sizes 32-34, 36-38 included.

Send thirty-five cents in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern to Laura Wheeler, care of The Daily Colonist Needlecraft Dept., 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Print plainly pattern number, your name and address.

For the first time! Over 200 designs in our new 1962 Needlecraft Catalogue — biggest ever! Pages, pages of fashions, home accessories to knit, crochet, sew, weave, embroider, quilt. See jumbo-knit hats, cloths, spreads, toys, linens, afghans plus free patterns. Send 25c.

Exports Top Record In October Sales

OTTAWA (CP) — Export sales jumped to a record $555,200,000 in October as shipments to the United States and non-Commonwealth markets overseas surged ahead, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

The preliminary estimate—15 per cent higher than the $482,700,000 of exports in October, 1960—was just a shade under the month's imports which also reached a new peak.

IMPORTS HIGHER

October imports, valued at $558,000,000 were 24.7 per cent higher than the year earlier level of $447,400,000.

The small $2,800,000 trade deficit for the month still left the country with a $52,100,000 trade surplus—excess of exports over imports—for the first 10 months of the year. In 1960 there was a $70,700,000 trade deficit during January-October.

The big October gain in shipments boosted export sales for January-October to $4,801,000,000, up 7.2 per cent from $4,478,100,000 a year earlier. Imports in the 10 months rose 4.4 per cent to $4,748,900,000 from $4,548,800,000.

Part of the increased values for both exports and imports since mid-year reflected the decline in the Canadian dollar's exchange value to a discount below the U.S. dollar. This has meant that exports sold for U.S. dollars and other foreign exchange bring higher returns in Canadian dollars, and similarly imports cost more in terms of Canadian dollars.

TRADE SURPLUS

The report indicated that there would have been a trade surplus in October if it hadn't been for some $16,000,000 in defence imports of U.S. aircraft being financed under mutual defence arrangements.

Exports to the U.S. in October jumped to $320,200,000, a gain of 24.3 per cent from $257,600,000 a year earlier.

Bribery Attempt Charged

A recent immigrant who was caught in the act of stealing five cases of beer from a Colwood beer parlor tried to buy his way out of custody with a $50 bill, an RCMP officer told Magistrate A. I. Thomas yesterday.

Piwattan Singh Takhar, 560 John, admitted taking the beer from the unlocked basement of the Six Mile House on Jan. 10.

An RCMP officer told the court the accused and another man, Sohan Singh, of the same address, were found inside the basement. Sohan fled, but was arrested later. He also pleaded guilty to a charge of theft.

When caught, Piwattan gave the arresting office a false name and address, then offered to pay for the beer with a $50 bill. Both men were remanded to Jan. 19 for a probation report and sentence.

* * *

A man who broke into an Oak Bay home Boxing Day to get a drink of liquor was given a suspended sentence in police court yesterday.

James Alfred Smith, 2120 Dryfe, had his one-year term suspended by Magistrate William Ostler. Police said Smith had entered the house at 2073 Chaucer and drank a quantity of liquor he found in the refrigerator.

* * *

Bertel Johnson, 1148 View, who stole a sheaf of welfare vouchers then tried to pass one at a supermarket, pleaded guilty and was remanded to Jan. 18 for a pre-sentence probation report in city police court yesterday.

* * *

A forger who turned himself in after three successful cheque-cashing forays was remanded to Jan. 19 for a pre-sentence probation report yesterday.

John Vanos, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to three counts of uttering forged cheques.

* * *

Failure to file an income tax return for 1960 cost Margaret Allison, 3132 Melgrove, $25 in city police court yesterday. The fine was levied when she pleaded guilty to the charge.

* * *

Charles de Macedo, 1162 Burdett, and Robert Rathburg, 2647 Anscomb Place, charged with operating as private detectives without a licence, will go on trial in city police court late this month.

Judgment On 'Loss' Reserved

Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan has reserved judgement on a breach of contract suit launched by a Vancouver man against the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce Exhibition Society.

Final argument for both plaintiff and the defendant were heard in B.C. Supreme Court yesterday.

James Meyer, operator of Exhibition Advertising Enterprises Ltd. and Western Fair Services Ltd., is claiming damages to the amount of profits lost by failure of the Jaycees to allow him to conduct the lottery for the cabin cruiser at last year's fair.

Archivists Take Stock Of Donation

Provincial archives employees have started cataloguing a large collection of books, photographs and pamphlets bequeathed to the province by the late Maj. Frederick Longstaff.

Provincial archivist Willard Ireland said he had not yet had a chance to look through all the material but added it was the third largest bequest the archives had received in the past 18 months.

The big headache, he said, was to find a place to store it all.

It is believed the books may give the provincial library the best collection of naval history on this coast.

Turkish Courts Double Road Toll

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—A Turkish police official said yesterday there are not many highway fatalities in Turkey—and for a good reason.

Capt. Rifat Salih Ercan, who came here during a nationwide inspection tour of U.S. police methods, said a Turkish motorist at fault in a traffic death can be executed.

'British' Bidder On Engines Really B.C. Firm

VANCOUVER branch of Ruston and Hornsby Ltd., not the British parent company, submitted the low tender for supply of engines for two B.C. government ferries, a company spokesman said here yesterday.

Charles Santwyk, branch manager, said the tender of $1,066,000 contained "as much B.C. equipment as could be produced in this area consistent with economy."

The locally - manufactured equipment includes engine control consoles and bridge controls, he said.

STRONG PROTEST

Mr. Santwyk strongly protested the likely award of the engine contract to Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Ltd. after federal officials advised B.C. that "no assurance can be given" of a 40 per cent subsidy unless the contract was given to a Canadian firm.

"The Ruston and Hornsby Ltd. tender is being termed a United Kingdom bid," said Mr. Santwyk, "yet it was actually calculated and prepared by the Vancouver branch of the company. We are property owners, taxpayers and employers in this province . . ."

22 NOW ABOARD

Mr. Santwyk said 22 Ruston and Horsby engines are already owned by the province in the ships of the B.C. ferry fleet. These include the two latest, still incomplete ferries.

"If the (federal government) subsidy is given for the Mv. City of Victoria and Mv. City of Vancouver now under construction, then why not for the new vessels containing the same Ruston and Hornsby machinery?" he said.

ADVISORY BODY

In fact, said Mr. Santwyk, the federal commission which has recommended subsidies for numerous Canadian vessels in the past nine months is only an advisory body. So far, the treasury board hasn't approved one subsidy to a Canadian shipowner, he said.

He said the $425,000 in British-built equipment included in the Fairbanks-Morse tender, represents gearboxes and fluid drive couples, which are specified items and therefore part of all the bids.

DELIVERED TO VICTORIA

"It has also not been made clear," said Mr. Santwyk, "that our price is delivered to Victoria, whereas Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Ltd. is quoting a higher price for the engines at their plant in Kingston, Ont."

Mr. Santwyk said freight rates on nearly 200 tons of machinery could add up to $60,000 to the Canadian price of $1,126,500.

Desert Now A Sea

ALICE SPRINGS (Reuters)—Huge areas of central Australia resembled a vast inland sea Friday as torrential rains fell over cattle country hit by a disastrous drought which has gripped the area for six years.

Reports tell of falls of up to six inches in the last 24 hours.

Rains during the last two days at Junction Station, 200 miles north of here, have converted a creek from a dry strip of sand into a river 150 yards wide in a few hours.

London, Paris Bear Brunt Of Wild Gale

LONDON (AP)—Atlantic gales hammered Western Europe Friday, sending ships running for shelter and bringing floods to rain-soaked Britain. The winds, which already have caused nine deaths, were expected to continue into Saturday.

London and Paris echoed to the sounds of banging garbage cans and falling roof tiles.

* * *

In the French capital, the meteorological service said the wind reached a speed of 97.5 miles an hour at the top of the 985-foot Eiffel Tower. The old tower stood up to this test but it was no place for timid tourists.

In the eastern Atlantic, ships of all sizes bucked their way against the weather. The crews of even large liners had their hands full.

The 27,000-ton Cape Town Castle was six hours late in arriving at Southampton from South Africa. Her master, Capt. Alec Underdown, said he hit a storm in the Bay of Biscay and called it one of the worst he had ever experienced.

Part of the liner's rail was carried away when 2,000 packages of tomatoes and cucumbers went over the side.

Freeze-Up Punches Below Citrus Belt

CHICAGO (UPI)—All-time low temperatures froze millions of dollars' worth of citrus fruit in the frigid lower Rio Grande valley Friday and a wintry blast plastered freezing rain and snow on the south's Atlantic seaboard from north Florida to Virginia.

The week-long cold wave ... took a soaring toll in lives and crops as it clung to the South and threatened Florida's citrus and vegetable crops for the first time.

Gumbo froze on a table at Morse, La., water iced in Galveston Bay, Tex., 100 feet from shore, and for the first time in history a bridge was closed in Jacksonville, Fla., because of ice.

FROSTBITE DEATH

Suffering spread through usually balmy areas of the South. Texas counted six children among its cold wave dead. They included a two-year-old Houston boy who died of frostbite and five youngsters who succumbed to bronchial pneumonia contracted in inadequately heated homes.

The lower Rio Grande valley was one of the hardest hit sections. The mercury dropped to an all-time low of 10 above zero in the subtropical citrus growing area.

EVEN TREES LOST

An estimated 7 million boxes of oranges and grapefruit froze on the trees. Many growers feared that even their trees were lost.

In one full week of wintry ordeal, the nation counted at least 202 deaths blamed on the weather. Texas alone had 32.

Canada Nods Holds Back On Free Trade

* * *

OTTAWA—Canada nodded approvingly but held back on co-operative commitments yesterday in answer to President Kennedy's call for broad cuts in free world trade barriers.

Canada's hesitation appears to stem from two uncertainties—degree of success Kennedy might achieve with his bold plan in a protectionist-leaning Congress, and the cloud over the future of Canada's British market in an expanded Common Market.

The government is expected to be cautious about changing existing tariff protection for secondary manufacturing industries unable to compete with the high efficiency and low prices of industries in the European market and the United States.

These attitudes surfaced during a general discussion here yesterday among U.S. and Canadian cabinet officers on problems arising from the new trade blocs.

APPRAISAL SOUGHT

The strong American delegation laid before their Canadian counterparts details of the Kennedy administration's proposal for tariff cuts which will be placed before Congress.

A realistic appraisal sought by Canadians of just how much of the tariff slashing program proposed by Kennedy might be passed by the election - conscious Congress was reported to be under way when the committee adjourned. The Canadian government entertained the visiting Americans at dinner Friday night.

CAUTIOUS APPROVAL

The meetings were to resume this morning and were scheduled to conclude about noon.

The U.S. administration hopes for authority from Congress to negotiate with the European Common Market for lower tariffs.

Columbia

Fulton Udall Confer

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton and U.S. Interior Secretary Udall got together Friday to discuss Columbia River power development—an issue which produced some sparks between them two months ago.

The two met at a private luncheon for U.S. and Canadian cabinet ministers attending trade talks and again last night at a dinner given by the Canadian government.

U.S. informants indicated they see increased hopes of a solution to the problem.

Last November Mr. Fulton accused Mr. Udall of joining a "pressure play" to get Ottawa to change its policy. Since then, relations have eased.

Police Jobs Lost for $15

NEW YORK (AP)—Three policemen were dismissed from the force Friday night on charges of refusing to investigate a burglary until the victim paid them $5 apiece.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arms identified the three as Louis Pastorini, a veteran of seven years; James Combs, 11 years; and Jerome Hecker, three years.

Week-Long Series

Fresh Quake Panics Slavs

BELGRADE (AP)—A new earthquake shook the resort town of Makarska on the Adriatic coast Friday night.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the tremor, of medium strength, heightened the panic and anxiety of thousands living in the open since a destructive series of quakes began last Sunday.

Three deaths and scores of injuries have been reported. Up to 70,000 people are said to have been driven from their homes since the quakes started. Five refuge camps have been set up on the beaches from where people are being removed by Yugoslav navy ships to the port of Split.

Eighty per cent of the buildings in Makarska were reported destroyed and a number of other villages are said to have been hit nearly as hard.

Look Again!

Notice anything different about this picture of View Street? The view has been improved by the removal of six wooden power poles, first step in the last stage of the B.C. Electric program to put all power lines underground in the downtown area. The uncluttered skyline will become commonplace as the program continues. — (Colonist photo.)

City May Banish B.C. Ferry Sign

City officials are investigating installation of a new sign on the roof of the Black Ball Ferry building on Wharf Street for the provincial government ferry system.

"It appears the sign was put up without a permit being issued and without approval by the city," said one official.

The issue is complicated because the building straddles the dividing line between two sign zones.

MIGHT ORDER

In one area the signs permitted are laid down, but in the other, zone "S," only signs permitted are those actually approved by a meeting of city council.

If the sign is in zone "S" it is possible city council might not approve it and order its removal.

HAVE TO GO

If the sign is in the other zone and does not conform to regulations, it will have to be removed.

If it does conform to regulations it is likely the sign company which installed it will be required to pay a "fine" double the usual fee for a permit to erect a sign.

Playmate's Slayer Sent Home

MIDLAND, Ont. (UPI)—An 11-year-old boy who killed a playmate Christmas Day because he refused to smoke a cigaret is back home today with his parents.

Family court Judge Marjorie Hamilton ruled that the shooting was unintentional and said she felt a training school term would not serve either the boy's interests or the community's welfare. She placed the boy on probation.

"The image of the result of this tragic occurrence will remain with this child all through his life and will itself prove a deterrent to his future behavior," the judge added.

LONDON, Ont. (UPI)—A 13-year-old boy was sentenced to three years in a training school yesterday for killing a seven-year-old girl.

Judge W. H. Fox said, "I find that he killed the girl but that there was no intent." He told the boy's parents to forgive their son. "He needs help," he added.

Devil's Island Fugitive Divers' Angel

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Dr. Pierre Bougrat, war hero, convicted murderer, escapee from Devil's Island and for 35 years the devoted but unlicensed doctor of the pearl divers of Margarita Island, is dead at 72.

Several hundred neighbors gathered yesterday to bury the man whose path to their island 15 miles off the Venezuelan coast started with a boat in a Marseille office wall and led through the infamous Devil's Island penal colony.

It began in March of 1925 when a Marseille bank messenger disappeared with a bag full of money. Three months later police found the messenger's body in a wall of Bougrat's office.

Dr. Bougrat, twice decorated during the First World War, testified at his trial that the messenger had committed suicide in his office and that in a fit of panic he had sealed the body in the wall. But he was found guilty of murder. His wife divorced him.

In 1928 Bougrat was sent to Devil's Island, the notorious graveyard of prisoners in French Guiana, to serve a life sentence. He was permitted to live in a house apart from other prisoners so he could treat the sick. He quickly set about building a boat and within months escaped with four other convicts.

They travelled up the South American coast to the Orinoco River, then upstream to Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela. There they split up and Bougrat made his way to Margarita Island.

There he began a new life. He married a shopkeeper's daughter and treated the islanders. He went home to Carriges to seek a license to practice medicine and was refused because of his criminal record. But authorities allowed him to return to Margarita and practise without a license.

French authorities several times asked for Bougrat's extradition. Venezuela denied their requests because her country does not permit life sentences.

But Bougrat would never return to France. He sent an appeal to the French government for a pardon, and was turned down.

Bougrat was a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor and holder of the Croix de Guerre.

HALIFAX (UPI)—Stevedores took extra care Thursday night when they lowered a new red and black Chevrolet convertible into the hold of the freighter Sunmar.

The car, built at Oshawa, Ont., is being taken to Georgetown, British Guiana, for the Duke of Edinburgh when he visits there in February.

Symphony Concert

Young Guest Pianist Cheered in Duncan

BY BERT BINNY

DUNCAN—Starring applause that erupted into cheers from an audience of more than 500 greeted the performance of 17 year-old pianist Patricia Perrin here last night.

As guest artist with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra she played Mozart's ninth concerto in E flat major.

FUTURE PROMISE

Miss Perrin is a young musician whose past performance, present standards and future promise are outstandingly high.

Her playing is delightfully secure, technically excellent and vital without, as yet, being electrifying. If little weaknesses occur, they are such as more experience and freer interpretation must surely eliminate.

SPECIAL FRIEND

For a well deserved encore, she played Brams Intermezzo in C major and this, she announced, was "for a special friend."

The program opened with Beethoven's famous "Eroica" symphony. This is a lengthy composition for some a bit too lengthy and it occupied the whole first half of the concert.

SLIGHT LACK

The playing by the orchestra last night was particularly incisive and effective in the bold, heroic passages though there seemed to be a slight lack of the usual assurance towards the end of the second movement.

The "Eroica" gives all sections of the orchestra golden opportunities to shine and because of this it is interesting to players and audience alike.

The orchestra maintained the interest successfully.

The concert concluded with Tchaikovsky's "Romeo and Juliet" overture and it will be heard again at the Royal Theatre in Victoria Sunday afternoon and Monday evening.

The seventh symphony concert will be played at Sidney Feb. 2 and in Victoria Feb. 4 and 5.

EVENS COMING

The guest conductor will be Clifford Evens, formerly concertmaster with the Victoria orchestra and the program includes John Weinzweig's "Symphonic Ode," Schubert's "Unfinished" symphony, "Don Juan" by Richard Strauss and Dvorak's fourth symphony.

Prayer Cover For Strike, Says Group

MONTREAL (CPI) — J. Spector, spokesman for the Fur Dressers and Dyers Association last night denounced some 1,000 employees across Canada for using religion "as a cover for an illegal strike."

A work stoppage, involving some 650 employees here, 300 men in Toronto and 100 workers in Winnipeg, continued yesterday as the workers held further meetings on "playing" for successful contract talks.

A spokesman for the union said the men were not on strike.

"We are still in meditation," said William Geffner.

Licence Delayed

Trading Stamp Ban Fails in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — An alderman and the city license inspector acted Friday to ban trading stamps from Vancouver but the corporation solicitor said there is nothing the city can do.

License inspector Milton Harrell said he had delayed approval of a licence renewal application made by Shop Easy Stores, one of two grocery firms in the city which have introduced trading stamp schemes, pending a decision by council.

CANCEL LICENCES

Alderman Halford Wilson gave notice he will ask council Tuesday to withdraw trade licences from all stores which operate such stamp schemes.

However, solicitor Russell Baker said in a report to council the city has no power to do so.

TOOK PAPER SPACE

Thirty organizations including department stores and trade associations took advertising space in Vancouver newspapers Friday to protest the use of trading stamps.

Saved Town Hails Its 'Heroic Fools'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Gallant volunteer firemen and narrow escapes were described Friday after a $2-million fire raged through a remote fishing cannery on the B.C. coast.

Storekeeper Pat Patterson praised fire fighters who battled for hours against the flames which heavily damaged the $1,000,000 B.C. Packers cannery at Namu.

"When you fight a fire like they did with what they had to work with, all I can say is they worked like fools," said Patterson. "How they held it down I don't know."

A stiff offshore wind fanned the flames over the cannery, cold storage sheds, power house, general store, manager's office shops and other waterfront buildings.

Firemen said an onshore wind would have made it impossible for them to save homes in the settlement of 250 people, the herring reduction plant, net lofts and fish oil storage tanks.

Fire started on the second floor of the cannery where 26 men were working. By the time the alarm sounded, several had to leap to dockside fishing boats to escape.

Only casualty was cannery worker Gunnar Toftoy who hurt his leg jumping off a roof.

B.C. Packers president J. M. Buchanan said the firm had no thought of abandoning the cannery.

My Plan Benefits You Douglas Tells Doctors

LONDON Ont. (CP) — New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas said Friday his party's health insurance plan would benefit both doctors and patients.

Douglas told the local Hippocratic Society the health scheme, based on prepayment, would "ensure the family physician remains the bulwark of modern medicine."

He said there was "growing appreciation of the fact that medical care is not a commercial commodity which should be available only to those able to pay for it."

The NDP plan would "not only assist those unable to afford adequate medical care, but would also provide money for training of doctors, refresher courses and post-graduate studies and medical research."

Logger Letter

'Bus Promised Us'

DUNCAN — Applicants for jobs with Hillcrest Lumber Co. logging division were told as late as last fall that free transportation would be provided to Mesachie Lake, an open letter to the public from 70 loggers said yesterday.

The company announced Nov. 6 it planned to cancel the bus service this month.

The loggers say the work day for an employee of the Hillcrest logging division at Duncan runs from 5:45 a.m. when he boards the bus until he returns to Duncan at 5:15 p.m.

"For these three hours and 30 minutes above his regular eight hours working time the man working at Hillcrest receives no compensation other than free transportation," the letter says.

The loggers said the cost of the bus is completely deductible for the company.

LIKE BUS COST

They claimed the cost of a bus is neglible in return for the benefit to the company in having a dependable crew arriving at the same time.

"The company has stated it bonuses the loggers with free transportation something those living in Mesachie Lake are not receiving," says the letter. "We loggers renting in Duncan have shown willingness to move into company-owned houses.

LONG WAITING LIST

"The company spokesman told us there is no housing available. But you may put your name on the long waiting list. For single personnel there is a bunkhouse available but the cookhouse has been closed down recently."

The loggers also said suitable housing at Lake Cowichan is limited and the company has been well aware loggers were building their own homes in the Duncan and Lake Cowichan areas.

"Surely the company does not expect us to sell or dispose of our property just to accommodate an economy measure."

Trustee's Son Heads Board

DUNCAN — Wilf Peck, former chairman of the Cowichan School board's building committee, was unanimously elected chairman of the board Thursday.

His vice-chairman is Harold Whitfield who has served on the local board for two years after five years on the Greater Victoria board.

Mr. Peck's father, Don Peck, was for several years a trustee on the Cowichan school board until he relinquished his post in 1950. His son has also been prominent as chairman of the Island zone's joint committee on teachers salaces.

The board endorsed the application of Cowichan Radio Development Co. for a radio station in Duncan.

CLUTTERING DIAL

Two years ago, to a similar request from another company, trustees commented: "The last thing we need is another station cluttering up the dial."

This time, trustees felt a radio station would serve a very useful purpose as said one member, the Cowichan district is only poorly covered by the daily press.

Water Area Wants Return to Elections

NANAIMO — Northfield water district residents hope to put the district back in the hands of elected trustees.

They have called a meeting for late February and have asked ratepayers to offer themselves as candidates for trustee.

Five members will be elected if the provincial government agrees to take the district out of receivership. It was placed in the hands of a receiver in early fall after the mass resignation of trustees.

Three Fined For Damage

PORT ALBERNI — Three young men have been fined on wilful damage charges.

In Alberni Thursday John Alexander Boyd, 19, was fined $35, and James D. Squire, 18, was fined $50. They were ordered to pay $25 each for repair of a door at Cherry Creek community hall, where they were put out of a teen-town dance, police said.

In Port Alberni Friday, Charles William Tait was fined $25 and ordered to pay $50 restitution for breaking windows of Redford Street homes.

Ferry Price Right Vehicle Size Isn't

Owners of motor vehicles less than nine feet long can travel on the Nanaimo-Gabriola Island ferry for 60 cents.

But for every extra nine feet or part thereof the cost will increase by 60 cents.

The new rates were set by provincial cabinet yesterday and government officials shrugged when informed there were few cars of any less than nine feet.

Victoria Port Business Soars to All-Time High

By IAN STREET

Port business in Victoria last year smashed all previous records.

A total of 375 deepsea ships with gross tonnage of 2,942,723 tons used port facilities compared with 353 ships in 1960.

34 PER CENT

Lumber shipments from Ogden Point docks in 1961 totalled 174,000,000 board feet, an increase of 43 per cent over the previous year's shipments to foreign ports.

Victoria grain elevator was kept working at full capacity of more than 1,000 bushels a month throughout the year.

SHARP UPSWING

Stanley Arvidson, CNR superintendent at Ogden Point, said the key to increased business was a sharp upswing in packaged lumber to the eastern seaboard of the U.S.

JAPAN THIRD

Japan, which for several years had taken no lumber from here, soared to third place among the big customers in 1961 with a total of 15,000,000 board feet in the last eight months.

There was also an appreciable increase in lumber shipments to European countries.

Several of the countries which purchased more lumber last year are in the European Common Market, but officials here said it was too soon to predict a trend. One official said: "We're hopeful this business will continue to grow."

A drop in lumber shipments to South Africa and to a lesser extent, Australia, was also recorded last year.

Mr. Arvidson said lumber shipments in round figures for 1961 totalled 174,000,000 board feet compared with 128,000,000 the previous year.

BULK CARRIERS

Victoria harbormaster Capt. Ronald Newell said there is a trend towards more bulk carriers calling here to load packaged lumber.

Lumber "packages" averaging about 2,000 board feet are made up in varying sizes and secured by straps for quick, easy loading.

FORKLIFT TRUCKS

In the cargo holds, forklift trucks are used to stack the lumber packages lowered into the ship by cargo slings.

Capt. Newell said before the record-setting 1960 total of 353 ships, the best previous post-war year for port business was 1953, when 344 vessels with a gross tonnage of 2,489,966 called here.

320 AT OGDEN

Last year 320 ships berthed at Ogden Point, the remainder going to grain elevator and other harbor facilities including Esquimalt graving dock.

The grain elevator was kept busy with Victoria's share of the $60,000,000 sale of Canadian wheat to Red China last February.

Lumber Loads Boom

Lumber shipments from Ogden Point last year soared to a new record of 174,000,000 board feet, an increase of 34 per cent over the previous year. The U.S. Atlantic coast market reached its highest level, most others showed increase.—(Colonist photo.)

'Angel' Needed

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Island Wreck Costly to Salvage

Cost of recovering the financially-worthless hulk of a rotting sailing ship from the west coast of Vancouver Island would probably be too high to justify the operation a salvage expert said yesterday.

The salvage official said a historically-minded benefactor would have to be found if the century-old wreck is to be raised, and it is not known whether any "angels" of this kind are available here.

He was commenting on the opinion of a veteran naval diver that the wreck at Sydney Inlet 123 miles from Victoria—which has maritime historians puzzled about its identity—could be hoisted from the water and returned by barge to Victoria.

B.C. Maritime Museum officials showed keen interest in the possibility they could acquire the three-masted vessel for an outdoor shipwreck display.

THREW SUPPORT

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, chairman of the centennial committee, yesterday threw his support behind the idea.

"Anything of that nature would be of great interest to visitors to Victoria," he said.

Having a ship more than 100 years old brought up during the city's centennial year would be good publicity, said the chairman.

PERHAPS NAVY

The city could not finance such an undertaking. Perhaps the navy could do the job with one of its ships and divers who are practising all the time anyway, suggested Ald. Edgelow.

A navy spokesmen agreed with the salvage company official that it would cost a lot of money to tow a seaworthy barge up the coast, keep it there for a week and then tow it back to Victoria.

FURTHER STUDY

But if any responsible group here showed an interest and wrote asking for naval co-operation in raising the vessel, the ship "we would be prepared to give the matter further study with a view to seeing whether it is economically feasible," said the spokesman.

Curator John Symons has said he would like to have the wreck for the maritime museum. Lt.-Cmdr. Ken Ackerman, in charge of the navy's operational diving unit, has said the vessel could be raised from its watery grave.

First Day On Job —And Hurt

The first day on a new job was a tough one for a 30-year-old carpenter who suffered chest injuries yesterday when he fell from a ladder onto a lumber pile.

Taken to St. Joseph's Hospital from the Fowler & Sons school construction job on Wesley Road was James McLeod, 3776 Duke.

He had just reported for work on the new job and was climbing the building framework when the accident occurred.

Double-Deckers

London Buses Here?

Visitors may get a chance to ride a red, double-decked London bus here this summer.

Tentative arrangements have been made and orders placed for three of the buses to be brought here for sightseeing purposes, a spokesman for the local firm planning the unique venture said last night.

18-MILE ROUTE

It is planned to run the buses on an 18-mile route, mostly along the waterfront, including Dallas Road and Beach Drive to Cadboro Bay, he said.

A representative of the firm recently returned from England where negotiations were conducted for the buses.

One structural conversion will have to be made on each bus. Entrance and steps leading upstairs will have to be removed from the left-hand side and rebuilt on the right-hand side.

This is necessary because English vehicles travel on the left-hand side of the road, and in Victoria the passengers would have to go out into the middle of the street to board the bus unless the change is made.

No Snowfall Expected For Today

Chances of snow falling in the Greater Victoria area today are slim, but conditions will be wintry, with a high of 42 and low of 32 predicted, accompanied by cloudy skies.

Weather officer William Mackie said there is a possibility of rain or rain mixed with snow early Sunday morning.

Family Facing Hungry Month

A family of five is facing the grim prospect of going without food for a month unless $40 lost on Gorge Vale Golf Course Thursday is recovered.

The money represents the balance of a $61 welfare cheque cashed on Thursday and is the family's total income for this month.

"I don't know what we'll do," said Mrs. Lavina Charles. "It's all the money we had."

LOOSE IN POCKET

She said she had the money loose in her pocket when leaving the bus stop at Forshaw and Craigflower, and believes she lost it while walking along a path across Gorge Vale Golf Club to the Songhees Indian Reserve.

She said the money was made up of a $20 bill and $1 and $2 bills.

"I paid the family bills," she said, "but the balance of the money was to be used to feed us for the rest of the month."

Her husband Burt Charles is a truck driver who has been out of work for five months. They have three children two, three and four years old.

Anyone finding any of the money is asked to call the home of Mrs. Charles' uncle, Thomas Charles, at GR 4-[illegible], residing from the left-hand

Narrow Call For Two In Car Flip

Two persons narrowly escaped last night when their sports car went out of control, careened through a barbed wire fence and landed upside down off Metchosin Road near Victoria Gun Club.

Langford fire department ambulance attendants Allan Lequesne and Vern Edwards both said it was "a miracle" both the men were not killed.

John Storoschuk, believed to be driver of the convertible, suffered a leg gash and passenger William Jones a broken leg. Both men are stationed at the Albert Head army post.

Attendant Edwards said Jones was thrown at least 50 feet from where the car had stopped.

Both men were in fair condition in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Detention Designs Go Ahead

City staff is preparing designs for the proposed new juvenile detention home, Mayor R. B. Wilson said yesterday.

The plans will be used as a basis for estimates of costs of construction for the information of the Greater Victoria intermunicipal committee.

Once costs are known the committee will decide whether to go ahead with construction.

A site has been chosen on Pembroke Street, behind Spencerhouse.

Bottles Wanted

Cubs and Scouts from St. Louis College will hold a bottle drive today from 10 a.m. to noon. They will tour residential areas of Victoria.

New Lease on Old School Won by Community Group

NORTH COWICHAN — Municipal council has granted Somenos Community Association another five-year lease on the old Somenos school building with the option of renewal for a further five years.

The building was abandoned as a school two years ago. Council learned there is no satisfactory source of water and the building is not in good repair.

Before investing money in the building, the association wanted assurance it would be available for a reasonable term of occupancy. About six other groups use the building.

• • •

DUNCAN—City council has asked a spokesman from Great Northern Gas Utilities for more details of his company's proposition for the distribution of natural gas.

Mayor Jack Dobson said the question would be investigated from every angle. "We won't overlook the possibility of going into the natural gas distribution business ourselves."

• • •

NORTH COWICHAN — December building permits were far behind the same month in 1960 but permits for 1961 were slightly ahead of 160.

December 1961 permits covered construction worth $17,545 compared with $50,027 the year before. Twelve-month totals are $1,093,171 for 1961 and $1,038,579 in 1960.

PORT ALBERNI — A. C. Cecil Raikes, alderman here from 1949 to 1952, died suddenly in his home at 613 Argyle Thursday. Funeral will be held in St. Alban's Anglican Church at 1.30 p.m. Monday.

For some years he had been purchasing agent at Alberni Pacific division of MacMillan, Bluedel and Powell River Ltd. He was a charter member and past president of Alberni District Gyro Club and a member of the Legion and St. Alban's Church.

COURTENAY—Ottawa isn't taking B.C. seriously and isn't thinking big enough on the Columbia power question, Dan Campbell has told Kiwanians.

The Comox MLA said that, once technicalities and dollars and cents are considered, politics will fly out the window.

Road Bill $966,000

COURTENAY — Dawson Wade of Vancouver has been awarded the $966,000 contract to rebuild 15 miles of road in the Sayward area. Work will start soon on the stretch between Menzies Bay and Roberts Lake.

COWICHAN VALLEY — Provisional date for this year's plowing competition has been set as March 31 by the Cowichan Ploughing Match Committee. The match will take place at Fairbridge Farm again.

New officers elected by the committee are Henry Westlock of Cowichan Station, president; George Braithwaite of Cobble Hill, vice-president; Jean Westlock of Cowichan Station, secretary-treasurer. Past president of the group is Arnie Stevenson.

• • •

ALBERNI — Earle McMaster was fined $25 and his licence was suspended for one month by Magistrate W. E. MacLeod when McMaster pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention. Harold Peterson, charged with making an unsafe left turn, was fined $20.

LAKE COWICHAN — Two trucks and a car were involved in an accident on Lake Cowichan Road eight miles east of the village but no one was injured, police said. Damage to the car was estimated at $650.

Travelling towards Duncan and attempting to pass a lumber truck operated by Raymond Hall of Duncan, a car driven by Ralph Godfrey of Lake Cowichan was struck from the rear by an oncoming chip truck operated by Donald Wright of Duncan.

Red Cross Satisfied

NANAIMO—John Benhan, Red Cross official, says he is satisfied with the two-day blood donor clinic here—"although we fell short of our quota."

The 765 pints donated "will help to build up the blood bank," he said. Goal was 800.

15 Appeal Against Increases

Only 15 persons have so far appealed against increased assessments of city property.

"But we expect quite a flock of them to come in next week, before the deadline for appeals at 5 p.m. Wednesday," a spokesman said.

At least 100 property owners protested against increased assessments following adoption of a new assessment equalization formula adopted by the provincial government, but most were satisfied with verbal explanations.

42 APPEALS

Last year a court of revision for assessments heard 42 appeals.

The court will sit at city hall Feb. 5. Members of the court will be former mayor Percy Scurrah, Coun. Joseph Cases of Saanich and city lawyer Kenneth Murphy.

AT CITY HALL

A court of revision for local improvements will sit at city hall at 10 a.m. Monday to hear appeals against local improvements by city ratepayers.

Members of the court will be Ald. Arthur Dowell, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, Ald. Michael Griffin, Ald. A. W. Toone and Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean.

City Boys' Club Needs Volunteer Instructors

A dozen men and women volunteer instructors are needed by the Boys' Club of Victoria to help teach crafts and supervise games.

Boys' club executive director Ron Havard said the volunteer helpers would be asked to serve for a two-hour period once a week. "They don't have to have previous experience. If they're interested, we'll train them," he said.

During the first 12 days of January, 275 boys, mostly between eight and 14 years of age, have re-registered at the club in the old Yates Street firehall. Membership was 760 at the end of 1961.

Volunteer helpers are asked to telephone Mr. Havard at EV 3-2041.

Don't-Do-It-Yourself New California Trend

Peter Bruton's NOTEBOOK

THIS MODERN AGE: Still slightly incredulous after a brief visit to Southern California, Don Bacon passes along the following piece of incidental intelligence.

He was amazed to find that:

● Some "sports" fishermen in the San Diego region connect up a battery-operated device to their reels. When a fish strikes the fisherman merely clicks on a switch and lo! the fish is reeled in automatically.

● Welfare agencies in California will now make the payments on television sets for those people on relief. It seems television has become a necessity of life.

● Some California young sters were given copies of that age-old book "Goldilocks and the Three Bears." But a new twist has been added to aid tired parents.

There's a crank on the side of the book and all you have to do is place the kid on your knee and turn the crank slowly. A "magic voice" reads the story. Very helpful it is, too. Every so often the "voice" says:

"Turn the page now."

LANGUAGE BARRIER: Last time Premier Bennett journeyed to Vancouver on one of the government ferries he listened in amazement as he heard employee after employee speaking in Old Country accents.

Finally it became too much. The premier turned to assistant manager Ronald Worley, himself English-born, and dryly asked:

"How many more of your cousins have you given jobs to?"

Mr. Worley says the tourists love the English accents.

REDUCED TO CLEAR: Suggestion comes from Larry Kerridge that the premises vacated by Connaught Seamen's Institute at 105 Superior would make a dandy permanent home for the B.C. Maritime Museum. With all this fuss over trading stamps it's interesting to recall the testimony of one witness who appeared before the B.C. legislative committee probing the subject in 1960. When a store manager reduced the price of his groceries no man assailed by angry housewives who complained they wouldn't get as many stamps as before.

Works Minister W. N. Chant is already worried about keeping the new Victoria law courts building nice and clean. He's called for tenders for janitorial services in the building.

THE READERS WRITE: We like getting letters but we never seem to acknowledge many of them. So . . .

J.J.H., Sidney: I'm not afraid to speak out now and then but I'm too small to publish the list of things you'd like to know in 1962. Wow!

A.J., Victoria: I'm sure B.C. civil servants agree with you that they're underpaid.

E.D.McK., Oak Bay: I was just feeling zesty I guess!

K.M.W., Victoria: The man who wrote that telegram has an odd sense of humor. It was by design, not accident!

G.R.F., Oak Bay: Yes ma'am, but I've heard all I want to hear about shooting bears this year.

P.W.S.W., Victoria: Thought your piece upstairs was fine, then I'm a little odd! Sorry, couldn't use it.

A.C., Saanich: And the same to you, sir. Doubled if possible!

Turkish Courts Double Road Toll

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—A Turkish police official said yesterday there are not many highway fatalities in Turkey—and for a good reason.

Capt. Rifat Salih Ercan, who came here during a nationwide inspection tour of U.S. police methods, said a Turkish motorist at fault in a traffic death can be executed.

'British' Bidder On Engines Really B.C. Firm

VANCOUVER branch of Ruston and Hornsby Ltd., not the British parent company, submitted the low tender for supply of engines for two B.C. government ferries, a company spokesman said here yesterday.

Charles Santwyk, branch manager, said the tender of $1,066,000 contained "as much B.C. equipment as could be produced in this area consistent with economy."

The locally-manufactured equipment includes engine control consoles and bridge controls, he said.

STRONG PROTEST

Mr. Santwyk strongly protested the likely award of the engine contract to Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Ltd. after federal officials advised B.C. that "no assurance can be given" of a 40 per cent subsidy unless the contract was given to a Canadian firm.

"The Ruston and Hornsby Ltd. tender is being termed a United Kingdom bid," said Mr. Santwyk, "yet it was actually calculated and prepared by the Vancouver branch of the company. We are property owners, taxpayers and employers in this province..."

22 NOW ABOARD

Mr. Santwyk said 22 Ruston and Hornsby engines are already owned by the province in the ships of the B.C. ferry fleet. These include the two latest, still incomplete ferries.

"If the (federal government) subsidy is given for the Mv. City of Victoria and Mv. City of Vancouver now under construction, then why not for the new vessels containing the same Ruston and Hornsby machinery?" he said.

ADVISORY BODY

In fact, said Mr. Santwyk, the federal commission which has recommended subsidies for numerous Canadian vessels in the past nine months is only an advisory body. So far, the treasury board hasn't approved one subsidy to a Canadian shipowner, he said.

He said the $425,000 in British-built equipment included in the Fairbanks-Morse tender represents gearboxes and fluid drive couplers, which are specified items and therefore part of all the bids.

DELIVERED TO VICTORIA

"It has also not been made clear," said Mr. Santwyk, "that our price is delivered to Victoria, whereas Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Ltd. is quoting a higher price for the engines at their plant in Kingston, Ont."

Mr. Santwyk said freight rates on nearly 200 tons of machinery could add up to $60,000 to the Canadian price of $1,126,500.

Canada Wary On Free Trade

OTTAWA (Special) — Canada nodded approvingly but held back on commitments yesterday in answer to President Kennedy's call for broad cuts in free world trade barriers.

Canada's hesitation appears to stem from two uncertainties—degree of success Kennedy might achieve with his bold plan in a protectionist-leaning Congress, and the cloud over the future of Canada's British market in an expanded Common Market.

* * *

The government is expected to be cautious about changing existing tariff protection for secondary manufacturing industries unable to compete with the high efficiency and low prices of industries in the European market and the United States.

These attitudes surfaced during a general discussion here yesterday among U.S. and Canadian cabinet officers on problems arising from the new trade blocs.

APPRAISAL SOUGHT

The strong American delegation laid before their Canadian counterparts details of the Kennedy administration's proposal for tariff cuts which will be placed before Congress.

A realistic appraisal sought by Canadians of just how much of the tariff slashing program proposed by Kennedy might be passed by the election-conscious Congress was reported to be under way when the committee adjourned. The Canadian government entertained the visiting Americans at dinner Friday night.

CAUTIOUS APPROVAL

The meetings were to resume this morning and were scheduled to conclude about noon.

The U.S. administration hopes for authority from Congress to negotiate with the European Common Market for lower tariffs.

Meantime, Ottawa sources have expressed "cautious ap

London, Paris Bear Brunt Of Wild Gale

LONDON (AP)—Atlantic gales hammered Western Europe Friday, sending ships running for shelter and bringing floods to rain-soaked Britain. The winds, which already have caused nine deaths, were expected to continue into Saturday.

London and Paris echoed to the sounds of banging garbage cans and falling roof tiles.

* * *

In the French capital, the meteorological service said the wind reached a speed of 97.5 miles an hour at the top of the 986-foot Eiffel Tower. The old tower stood up to this test, but it was no place for timid tourists.

In the eastern Atlantic, ships of all sizes bucked their way against the weather. The crews of even large liners had their hands full.

The 27,000-ton Cape Town Castle was six hours late in arriving at Southampton from South Africa. Her master, Capt. Alec Underdown, said he hit a storm in the Bay of Biscay and called it one of the worst he had ever experienced.

Part of the liner's rail was carried away when 2,000 packages of tomatoes and cucumbers went over the side.

While coast towns took a battering, the weather was unseasonably warm inland.

But Italy felt the cold. Rome had a heavy hailstorm and Genoa experienced its first snow of the year.

Freeze-Up Punches Below Citrus Belt

CHICAGO (UPI)—All-time low temperatures froze millions of dollars' worth of citrus fruit in the frigid lower Rio Grande valley Friday and a wintry blast plastered freezing rain and snow on the south's Atlantic seaboard from north Florida to Virginia.

The week-long cold wave took a soaring toll in lives and crops as it clung to the South and threatened Florida's citrus and vegetable crops for the first time.

Gumbo froze on a table at Morse, La., water iced in Galveston Bay, Tex., 100 feet from shore, and for the first time in history a bridge was closed in Jacksonville, Fla., because of ice.

Suffering spread through usually balmy areas of the South. Texas counted six children among its cold-wave dead. They included a two-year-old Houston boy who died of frostbite and five youngsters who succumbed to bronchial pneumonia contracted in inadequately heated homes.

The lower Rio Grande valley was one of the hardest hit sections. The mercury dropped to an all-time low of 10 above zero in the sub-tropical citrus-growing area.

EVEN TREES LOST

An estimated 7,500,000 boxes of oranges and grapefruit froze on the trees. Many growers feared that even their trees were lost.

In one full week of wintry upset, the nation counted at least 200 deaths blamed on the weather. Texas alone had 32.

Columbia Fulton Udall Confer

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton and U.S. Interior Secretary Udall got together Friday to discuss Columbia River power development—an issue which produced some sparks between them two months ago.

The two met at a private luncheon for U.S. and Canadian cabinet ministers attending trade talks and again last night at a dinner given by the Canadian government.

U.S. informants indicated they see increased hopes of a solution to the problem.

Red Diplomat Deserts Post?

HELSINKI (UPI)—Scandinavian newspapers reported yesterday a Soviet diplomat and his family had defected to the West from his embassy post here.

Week-Long Series

Fresh Quake Panics Slavs

BELGRADE (AP)—A new earthquake shook the resort town of Makarska on the Adriatic coast Friday night.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the tremor, of medium strength, heightened the panic and anxiety of thousands living in the open since a destructive series of quakes began last Sunday.

Three deaths and scores of injuries have been reported. Up to 70,000 people are said to have been driven from their homes since the quakes started. Five refugee camps have been set up on the beaches from where people are being removed by Yugoslav navy ships to the port of Split.

Eighty per cent of the buildings in Makarska were reported destroyed and a number of other villages are said to have been hit nearly as hard.

Look Again!

Notice anything different about this picture of View Street? The view has been improved by the removal of six wooden power poles, first step in the last stage of the B.C. Electric program to put all power lines underground in the downtown area. The uncluttered skyline will become commonplace as the program continues. — (Colonist photo.)

City May Banish B.C. Ferry Sign

City officials are investigating installation of a new sign on the roof of the Black Ball Ferry building on Wharf Street for the provincial government ferry system.

"It appears the sign was put up without a permit being issued and without approval by the city," said one official.

The issue is complicated because the building straddles the dividing line between two sign zones.

MIGHT ORDER

In one area the signs permitted are laid down, but in the other, zone "S," only signs permitted are those actually approved by a meeting of city council.

If the sign is in zone "S" it is possible city council might not approve it and order its removal.

HAVE TO GO

If the sign is in the other zone and does not conform to regulations, it will have to be removed.

If it does conform to regulations, it is likely the sign company which installed it will be required to pay a "fine"—double the usual fee for a permit to erect a sign.

Playmate's Slayer Sent Home

MIDLAND, Ont. (UPI)—An 11-year-old boy who killed a playmate Christmas Day because he refused to smoke a cigaret is back home today with his parents.

Family court Judge Marjorie Hamilton ruled that the shooting was unintentional and said she felt a training-school term would not serve either the boy's interests or the community's welfare. She placed the boy on probation.

"The image of the result of this tragic occurrence will remain with this child all through his life and will itself prove a deterrent in his future behavior," the judge added.

Young Killer Gets Three Years

LONDON, Ont. (UPI)—A 13-year-old boy was sentenced to three years in a training school yesterday for killing a seven-year-old girl.

Judge W. H. Fox said: "I find that he killed the girl but that there was no intent." He told the boy's parents to forgive their son. "He needs help," he added.

Police Jobs Lost for $15

NEW YORK (AP)—Three policemen were dismissed from the force Friday night on charges of refusing to investigate a burglary until the victim paid them $5 apiece.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arms identified the three as Louis Pastorini, a veteran of seven years, James Combs, 11 years, and Jerome Hecker, three years.

Devil's Island Fugitive Divers' Angel

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Dr. Pierre Bougrat, war hero, convicted murderer, escapee from Devil's Island and for 35 years the devoted but unlicensed doctor of the pearl divers of Margarita Island, is dead at 72.

Several hundred neighbors gathered yesterday to bury the man whose path to their island 15 miles off the Venezuelan coast started with a body in a Marseille office wall and led through the infamous Devil's Island penal colony.

It began in March of 1925 when a Marseille bank messenger disappeared with a bag full of money. Three months later police found the messenger's body in a wall of Bougrat's office.

Dr. Bougrat, twice decorated during the First World War, testified at his trial that the messenger had committed suicide in his office and that in a fit of panic he had sealed the body in the wall. But he was found guilty of murder. His wife divorced him.

In 1926 Bougrat was sent to Devil's Island, the notorious graveyard of prisoners in French Guiana, to serve a life sentence. He was permitted to live in a house apart from other prisoners so he could treat the sick. He quickly set about building a boat and within months escaped with four other convicts.

They travelled up the South American coast to the Orinoco River, then upstream to Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela. There they split up and Bougrat made his way to Margarita Island.

There he began a new life. He married a shopkeeper's daughter and treated the islanders. He once came to Caracas to seek a license to practice medicine, and was refused because of his criminal record. But authorities allowed him to return to Margarita and practice without a licence.

French authorities several times asked for Bougrat's extradition. Venezuela denied their requests because this country does not permit life sentences.

But Bougrat could never return to France. He sent an appeal to the French government for a pardon and was turned down.

Lifesaver Flying To Peru
